BABY LINDBERGH TO STAY AT HOME

Col. Lindbergh Says He's Not Planning Any Silly Flying

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh, will leave for an airplane tour of the Orient within a month, the State Department announced today.

They will fly all the way from their estate in New Jersey and will go by way of Alaska, taking the short water hop and will probably fly over Siberia and tour China and Japan by easy stages.

The Colonel revealed his plans to the State Department during a telephone conversation with the Undersecretary of State, William R. Castle, Jr., in which he asked the Department to obtain permission from the Chinese and Japanese governments for him to fly in their countries.

Baby To Stay Home

The Lindberghs will not take their baby, Charles Augustus, Jr., Lindbergh told Castle.

He will use his regular airplane, "The one I have been using for some time," Castle said the Colonel told him. Castle said pontoons were already attached to Lindbergh's plane.

Lindbergh told Castle there would be no long water hop and that he was not going to do any "silly things," or take any risk with his wife along."

He said he would make plans for

PA NEWC OBSERVES

The extreme warm weather of the past few days has resulted in local streams dropping rapidly. The Shenango river fell almost a foot in the last 24 hours, dropping from 5.3 feet to 4.4 feet since 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

The flood light rays against the soldiers' memorial on the diamond made the monument particularly striking in appearance last evening.

About a year ago New Castle was making ready to entertain the state convention of the G. A. R. and affiliated organizations. The convention this year will start in Lancaster in a few days, and a few of the veterans from this city may make the trip. Sons of veterans and the ladies' auxiliaries will be well represented.

It wouldn't hurt a bit to have a little work done on the dirt road leading from Harlansburg to the State Game Farm. In these days of good roads, this is an exceptionally rough highway to travel.

Workmen are putting the finishing touches to the approaches to the viaduct on the Perry Highway near Grant City. It will probably be but a few days until this last detour on the highway will be eliminated. There is a bridge over the creek and a viaduct over the Western Allegheny tracks at this point.

The Narrows, leading from Rural Avenue to the paper mill bridge, is quite an attractive thoroughfare During the winter it was widened so that two cars can now pass without

When he left the car to get water for the radiator, she seized his gun and shot him in an attempt to escape. He grabbed the gun back and hit her over the head and when she pleaded for her life shot her in the head.

Refuse To Accept Murder Theory In Death Of Dr. Bell

Bucks County Coroner And State Police Contend Shooting Was Accidental

NO FURTHER PROBE IS BEING PLANNED

Believe Dr. Bell Was Killed By Invention Rigged Up By Himself

(International News Service)

YORK, June 4.—A theory of murder advanced to explain the death of Dr. Raley Husted Bell, retired physician and author, at Sycamore Lodge, his country home near Centre Bridge, Pa., was rejected today by Coroner John J. Sweeney of Bucks county and Pennsylvania state police.

The authorities said that the Doctor accidentally shot himself when he tripped the trigger of one of several shotguns he had rigged up as a protection at his estate against prowlers. They refused to accept the murder theory, advanced here by officials of a publishing company which issued Bell's books.

Samuel Roth, president of the company, was informed that "everything points to accidental death," and was told the murder theory would not be investigated further.

Abandonment Of Electric Freight Service Held Violation Of Law

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—Residents of Ellwood City, Evans City, Bradford Woods, and numerous points along the Ellwood City to East New Castle and the Ellwood City to Beaver Falls branches of the Pittsburgh, Harmony and New Castle Railway today took up the legal cudgel to prevent abandonment of the line sections as requested of Federal Court by Maurice R. Scharff, receiver.

Although Scharff testified before Judge P. Schoonmaker that steadily decreasing patronage of the line made it imperative to discontinue these two operations, counsel for the protesting residents argued that its present condition was due to the action of competitive yet affiliated motor companies.

Attorney William S. Doty, of Pittsburgh, allied with attorney J. W. Humphrey, of Ellwood City, as counsel for the protestants, charged that the railway's discontinuance of electric freight service "without anybody's permission was a violation of the law of the State of Pennsylvania

Naval Academy Gives Diplomas To Class Of 441

Assistant Secretary Of Navy Earnest Lee Jahncke, Gives Out Awards

HUNDREDS ATTEND EXERCISES TODAY

(International News Service)

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 4.—Four hundred and forty-one graduates of the U. S. Naval Academy received their diplomas today from Ernest Lee Jahncke, assistant secretary of the Navy, following graduation exercises in Dahlgren hall.

Not all of the midshipmen, however, will serve in Uncle Sam's Navy, for 36 have resigned their commissions, 24 will become second lieutenants in the Marine Corps, 12 will be attached to the Navy Supply Bureau, 12 will be discharged on physical disability ratings and one, a Filipino, will return to his native island.

Hundreds of relatives and friends of the midshipmen packed the large hall. In the throng were Admiral William V. Pratt, Rear-Admiral Mark L. Bristol, Rear-Admiral Frank B. Upham, Senator Phillips Lee Goldsborough, (Rep). Stephen W. Gambill of Maryland's delegation in Congress and Brig. Gen. Milton Record, Adjutant General of Maryland.

At a farewell ball last night Rear-Admiral Thomas C. Hart, Academy Superintendent, and Capt. C. E. Snyder, commandant of midshipmen, were present. They assisted Jahncke in presenting awards to 25 midshipment who led the graduating class. Six other midshipmen received complimentary letters for meritorious work.

Workmen are engaged in building some ornamental stone posts at the entrance to the New Castle Municipal golf course. The entrance will be made much more attractive when this work is concluded.

Workmen are still engaged in the work of erecting a high mesh fence around the Jordon State Game Farm. Much of the 300 or more acres has already been fenced in and the entire farm will soon be surrounded with the fence. The work of beautifying the game farm entrance is continuing and the place presents a most attractive appearance since the miniature lake has been added.

A Croton citizen suggests to city council that it change the name of Croton avenue to the "New Castle Speedway." Wonder if that is sarcasm?

Lots in all sorts of places are showing a "back to the garden" movement on the part of nearby inhabitants. In sections which has never been used for vegetable growing purposes persons are now tilling the soil and making garden.

Paw Newc observed last night at Rose Point a man, wife and two children at work. The man was doing the spading and the woman was smoking a cigarette while the children looked on. Judging from the ground the man had a hard time breaking through the sod.

Harvey Black, Fairmont avenue, has the skin of a moccasin which he says he captured and killed along the Neshannock creek immediately outside of the city. He skinned the reptile and its skin is about two inches wide and long enough to encircle his waist.

No longer are auto greasing stations termed such among those who would be just so. Pa Newc observed an advertisement on a tire carrier today, calling the attention of the public to a "lubritorium" or in other words, just a plain ordinary everyday greasing station.

PINCHOT HELD CANDIDATE FOR HOOVER'S SEAT

likely to be influential figures in their respective state delegations, and both governors as well furnished further insight into their developing campaigns.

On the Republican side, Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, left little doubt that he is to be considered a rival for the nomination which most politicians, irrespective of party, believe President Hoover cannot be denied. Nevertheless and with his usual disdain of odds, the Pennsylvanian threw his hat into the ring on the power issue, and there it is likely to remain until further developments. Gov. Pinchot's friends are already active in quest of anti-Hoover delegates to the convention next year in a dozen states.

Situation Discussed.

Of the twenty-odd governors who attended the conference about half were Democratic. During the three days, both Gov. Roosevelt and Gov. Ritchie found opportunity to confer with them privately. The results of these conferences, if any, will not become apparent for many months probably, but they are nevertheless important and significant at this stage of the game.

A poll of the Republican governors, taken by the International News Service correspondent, developed that all thought President Hoover would have little difficulty about renomination, if he wants it," several of them added.

A similar poll of the Democratic governors revealed a variety of opinion, although the concensus was that Gov. Roosevelt is at this time, twelve months in advance of the convention, leading the race. A few thought he "is the probable nominee," but the majority was inclined to regard the race as "very open" and for the few who believed Roosevelt was the likely nominee there were an offsetting few who disagreed entirely and thought he would not be the nominee.

None of the governors wanted to express their opinions for attributed publication. Hence they are given anonymously.

Economic Issues.

An illuminating development of the conference was that both Gov. Roosevelt and Gov. Ritchie made it clear they consider economic issues will overshadow all else in the 1932 campaign.

In his address to the conference Gov. Roosevelt, although he talked mostly of "state planning," called attention to the difficult times through which the country is passing, and declared they called for a new political and economic leadership.

Gov. Ritchie, a pioneer in the anti-prohibition movement, declared that unemployment and the economic situation "means far more to the people than all the subjects we possibly could discuss." Inferentially, that meant prohibition, too, although the Maryland governor has consistently refused to minimize that issue. On the contrary he losses few opportunities to emphasize it, and was the first governor to mention it in the conference deliberations.

All the governors were enroute to their homes today.

STAR LORE

LOCATING SCORPIUS IN THE JUNE EVENING SKY

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

Every beginner at star-gazing should be reminded that the evening sky in June is the time when constellation Scorpious containing the largest star known—Antares—is coming into splendid view away to the southeast. It has three conspicuous stars in its head forming a wide open curve. From the concave side of this curve a line of stars may be traced streaming toward the southeast, and finally the scorpion's tail makes a sharp curve to the west with two rather bright stars at the end—the stinger. Antares is the big red star at the scorpion's heart, equi-distance from two fainter stars. Antares is 400 million miles in diameter.

Having suffered during the past two weeks by attacks on its clergy and institutions through personal violence, the church suffered two additional damaging blows from the government yesterday.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 4.—The submarine Nautilus, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins and his expedition will attempt to reach the North Pole undersea, rode at anchor today off this old fishing port, having made a successful and uneventful over night run from New London, Conn.

Submerbed tests runs off the tip of Cape Cod were planned by Sir Hubert, preparatory to starting across the Atlantic to London.

Three Accidents Are Reported Wednesday On The Streets Of The City

Robert Nelson, 206 Fairfield avenue, reported Wednesday that he was on Reis street and backed his car. As he did so, unknown to him, a Miss Stone, who had been holding onto the rear tire of his machine, was knocked down and in under his machine and was dragged a short distance. Fortunately she escaped injury, although her clothing was torn.

S. A. Fair of 1055 Parkland, Youngstown, O., reported that he was driving south on Mill street at Washington street when a man walked into the side of his machine and sustained a bump on the head, but apparently escaped serious injury. Mr. Fair did not get the man's name.

H. Roberts of R. D. No. 3 reported that he was en route east on Washington street bridge. A truck of Welker's Florist Shop was standing at the curb with the rear door open and his machine hit and broke off the door.

as embodied by the Public Service Commission Act."

Scharff Denies Charge

Scharff informed the court that when he was appointed as receiver for the lines he found only one freight route in operation, that of a morning milk transportation car between Willow, near Ellwood City, and Pittsburgh. He said from his studies of the road, the lack of terminal facilities would make it impracticable and unprofitable to extend the freight operations. He denied the charge of Attorney Humphrey that operation of the Harmony Motor Freight Transportation Company, affiliated with the electric line, contributed in a great measure to the loss of revenue from freight.

The receiver testified that the electric line has suffered losses steadily from 1923 until the present time, with a minimum loss after deducting depreciation and bond interest, of $55,999.66 in 1923 and $246,242.72 in 1927. He told the court that for the first three months of 1931, the revenues were less than the expenses of operation before any deductions were made for depreciation. Net losses before depreciation were: $4,638.51 in January; $4,602.99 in February; $3,899.87 in March; and $4,043.23 in April.

Traffic Counts Made.

Traffic counts made by Scharff on the two branches revealed, he testified, that patronage was steadily declining. Should the line be abandoned between Ellwood City and East New Castle and Beaver Falls, he argued that a savings of about $3,000 in operating expense would be effected while the company would sustain a loss of about $1,000 in revenue. He described the equipment as being "reasonably safe and fairly good" admitting, however, that repairs would be beneficial to a great degree.

Counsel for the protestant citizens, of whom more than 50 were in court, demanded that the receiver "give the road and the people a new deal" and extend the freight service and continue the passenger service. On cross examination, Attorney Humphrey attempted to show loss in revenue might be seasonal or the result of the present business depression.

Additional testimony and witnesses was to be heard late this afternoon following the noon recess, Judge Schoonmaker indicated, before a decision will be handed down.

The examination will show what probability there is of Ritty returning to service. In the meantime William Shaner is employed temporarily in his police position.

groomed for her south-Atlantic flight. A number of small boats put out hurriedly in the hope of arriving at the scene in time to witness the rescue operations, if such were needed.

May Have Been Only Landing

Porto Praia, Cape Verde Islands, June 4.—Belief that the giant German flying boat DO-X had merely made a forced landing on the surface of the ocean, rather than having fallen in flight, was expressed here this afternoon.

The operator at the Porto Praia wireless station, who announced the DO-X had fallen into the ocean, later corrected his statement and said the ship had merely made a forced landing.

In the meantime a tug had been dispatched to the rescue of the stricken air liner, and pending word from the tug no exact information was available. The DO-X had not answered wireless calls to it since the report of her descent.

FREEDOM OF PRESS UPHELD

LIBERTY, good government and justice scored a gratifying victory in the United States supreme court when that tribunal declared Minnesota's infamous and vicious "gag law" unconstitutional. Had it sustained the legality of the law, the freedom of the press would have been lost to the state of Minnesota.

This dangerous bit of legislation made it possible for a corrupt, hysterical, offended or easily led judge in that state to suppress the publication of any newspaper for alleged publication of scandalous or defamatory matter. So broad and so widely abused are those two terms that the suspension of every newspaper within the jurisdiction of the law is conceivable, provided enough "gag law" judges could be found to enforce it.

When would such a law most likely be invoked? On those occasions when a private citizen takes offense at some newspaper article? Or when a corrupt judge or the corrupt political organization of which he is a part is under fire from a newspaper? Minnesota had the law just long enough to learn that it would rob the citizen of protection, rather than throw some new protection around him.

A free press is the backbone of a free government and the nemesis of corrupt governments. That is why the establishment of a free press was one of the first acts of the founders of this government and why the abolition of a free press through censorship is the first act of the despot and dictator.

DEMOCRATIC TARIFF PLEA

Democratic spellbinders who have been trying to make the Smoot-Hawley tariff law embarrassing for the Hoover administration and the Republican party have just awakened to the fact that they have been throwing boomerangs with embarrassment to themselves.

Although Democrats had a part in the framing and passing of this business relief legislation, they have been labeling it a Republican measure and attempting to place upon it responsibility for all the current economic ills of the world. That was excellent Democratic politics during a Republican administration and on the eve of a national election until in the course of human events it became necessary for certain Democratic statesmen to go before the federal tariff commission and complain that the so-called drastic Smoot-Hawley act is not drastic enough.

While his colleagues are condemning the tariff rates as too high and unfair to the consumer, Representative William P. Connery, Democrat, of Massachusetts, is fighting before the tariff commission for higher tariffs on imported shoes. European shoes manufactured by cheap labor are flooding the American market, closing American factories and forcing Americans out of work.

Congressman Connery's is a just and humanitarian cause, but why is it that when a Republican congressman makes the same plea for his constituents the whole Democratic party arises in horror and anguish to indict the administration and every Republican member of congress with selling out to the vested interests and sending the people into a life of tariff slavery? Odd, isn't it, that tariffs are "high" and "preferential to big business" when they favor Republican voters, but "protective" and "fair" when they provide Democratic voters with bread and butter?

VACATION DAYS DANGEROUS

Vacation days are dangerous days for the motorist, declares the American Motorists Association, calling attention to accident figures, just announced by the Census Bureau, showing that upward of four thousand persons will be drowned during the next three months, based upon figures for the previous ten year average.

Census figures show that an average of 3,500 persons meet their deaths through accidental drowning through June, July and August of each year. The vast majority of these are vacationists, on pleasure bent, unaccustomed to the perils of swimming and bathing in unfamiliar waters.

Automobile fatalities last year took a toll of more than 30,000 persons. Of this number, approximately 9,600, or nearly one-third, were killed by motor vehicles during June, July and August.

These three summer months just ahead will see millions of motorists, tourists and vacationists traveling over strange highways and enjoying the water sports of unfamiliar waters. Drive and bathe cautiously. Do your individual bit to reduce the toll of human life.

TEN MILES UP

Even unscientific persons who know little and care less about the usual run of explorations into the realm of science have been feeling a sort of edge-of-the-chair suspense waiting for the final analysis of the readings and studies made by two German scientists 10 miles above the earth. Their interest in the great adventure has made it possible for them to derive some excitement from the purely scientific suspense.

The two explorers in space brought back to earth man's first-hand and eye-witness information about the stratosphere, that globe of rarified air which surrounds our own atmosphere and which will support neither life nor any known flying machine except the balloon.

From observations made by the two Germans science hopes to learn much about meteorology, to solve some of the mysteries of radio and delve deeper into the secrets of this universe. Theirs was a purely scientific mission, and it was the more spectacular for that.

The civilized world has long been talking and dreaming about a trip to the Moon or Mars, but it never really believed travel in interstellar space possible until these two men who went ten miles into the sky in an aluminum globe returned in safety to tell the amazing story. After that the most skeptical can be no longer skeptical.

All Of Us

There's a Tide
It Is in Everything
In Men and Women, Too

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I have been to the shores of the oceans and I have seen the Tide.

I have seen it ebbing, I have seen it flowing, seen it drifting back from the solid land, seen it rushing shoreward with more than the force of 10,000 furious elephants.

And the shore, when the tide was out, was flat and desolate and dirty. Drifted things lay there; broken shells and skulking creatures and odd small treasures were all about; the beach was an abandoned battlefield. But I waited and I waited and soon I felt a movement out there in the sea. I saw the waves higher and coming closer. The great force of the pale day-moon was reaching out and drawing the waters to me. The tide was coming in. I knew it would. It had always come in and gone out and come in again. And the tide would always be, as long as the moon stood in the heavens.

The tide is always there. It is in little ponds. It is in streams. It is in lakes. The great Michelson, who died recently, measured it, even, in a narrow pipe. ...And some great man, some day, may even measure it in solid things like rock and steel and children's building blocks.

And I'm sure there's a tide, too, in human beings—in men and women who think all things are exactly what they seem. Who think heightened joy will last forever, and deep despair will never go away from them. But there's a tide.

There are moments and hours and days when that tide is out in the human heart and all the weakness and meanness and hopelessness and pettiness of life is laid bare for all to see.

But the tide turns—and on the shore there is a great rush of waters and in the human heart there is a rush of hope and health, and a new belief, and confidence in life, and a certainty that all will be well. And the meanness is washed away and the poisons are cleaned away and the small wreckages of living vanish into the deep.

Whether you believe in that tide or defy it with cynicism and despair, it exists! It goes and it returns. It leaves you strangled and it picks you up again. It is stronger than you and stronger than all your lonely bitterness. It will come back and wash you clean again—some day when you least expect it. That's true and you know it's true!

The New Castle school board is not going to hire married school teachers. Many willl agree that is very much all right. However, in cases where the board has to go out of town to get a competent unmarried teacher, why not give the local married women the job instead of going out of town for a teacher who might not be as competent? We have heard quite a few people in New Castle say this is the right thing to do, but far be it from us to try to tell the school board what to do.

During the session of the Pennsylvania legislature just closed last week the Lawrence county representatives made a record for achievement unequaled in the history of this county. They got everything they asked for about and it is with much satisfaction the people view the work of the state senator, the representative in the legislature who lives in New Wilmington and the local member of the house. Our mind goes back to some members of the legislature from here who put in most of their time using everything and everybody and voting against everything and they never got a thing for Lawrence county when it was entitled to it.

One of the first things every new salesman is told is to avoid "knocking" a competitor. We believe that "knocking" a competitor's name, product or sales methods is not only poor policy, but bad sportsmanship.

But, when it is necessary to tell the truth about the competitor's product, and it is apparent that its use will deprive the buyer of certain benefits which another product offers—then it becomes a service to the buyer to tell him the truth frankly and fearlessly, "with malice toward none and charity toward all." It would be hypocrisy and deceit to do otherwise.

Chain Store Decision Raises Question Of Future Policies

Supreme Court, In Indiana Decision, Settles Constitutional Issue, But Country Gives Attention To Effect On Legislation In Other States

While the United States Supreme Court has upheld legislation in Indiana establishing graduated taxation affecting chain stores and classification of mercantile establishments, thus settling the legalistic aspects of the question, the county sees the eventual outcome of the controversy as a matter to be settled by economics and public policy. The decision's effect on pending States is discussed, with the question of whether state revenues or business rivalry are the chief considerations. Some see in it authority for laws to equalize the struggle between the chains and the independents while others view it as authority for laws which, with the possibility of higher levies than those imposed by Indiana, will tax the chains out of existence.

Reviewing the history of the case, the INDIANAPOLIS STAR states: "The law provides that each mercantile establishment must pay an annual license fee of $3 when operated as a single unit. Owners operating from two to five stores pay $10 on each additional unit. The fee is $15 on each unit in excess of five and not more than ten. From ten to twenty units the fee is $20 each. The fee is $25 on each unit in excess of twenty. The act became effective on July 1, 1929. A suit was brought in April, 1929, to test the constitutionality of the act. The attorney general defended the law and on February 1, 1930, a three-judge decision was handed down in the Federal District court declaring the law to be unconstitutional. District Judges Baltzell, Slick and Circuit Judge Sparks were of the opinion that the law sets up an arbitrary classification that violates the constitutional rights of the owners of more than one mercantile unit. Attorney General Ogden appealed to the Supreme court of the United States and that tribunal sustains the classification. Justice Roberts finds that the constitution 'does not compel the adoption of an iron rule of equal taxation, nor prevent variety or differences in taxation, or discretion in the selection of subjects, or the classification for taxation of properties, business, trades, callings or occupations.' The court holds that it is in duty bound to sustain the classification adopted by the Legislature if there are substantial differences between the occupations separately classified, and that such differences need not be great."

"The Supreme Court is careful to make it clear," says the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, "that in this, as in many other contentions, its decision is purely legalistic. It may uphold or deny the Constitutional right of a State to enact a law in dispute. The decision as to its wisdom is left to the legislative power. Strictly speaking, that is none of the Supreme Court's business." The LOWELL EVENING LEADER points out that "the principal of the graduated tax is the same as that upon which our income tax schedules are based; in view of modern merchandizing trends, the decision is of far more than ordinary importance."

The ROANOKE WORLD-NEWS comments: "Although the Legislatures of three-fourths of the States have been in session this winter, there has been little renewal of the agitation for chain-store taxation, partly awaiting the Supreme Court decisions in the Indiana and North Carolina cases, and partly, it is believed, because independent store owners have been advised that such laws against chain stores would give an impetus to the movement in some States for a general sales tax."

Such legislation in the opinion of the SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) UNION, "appears to be due to two causes, of which the desire on the part of Legisatures to find some new source of revenue to meet the increasing costs of government probably is by no means the lesser." The other principal reason may, perhaps, be traced to the agitation which the independent stores and some of the labor organizations have been carrying on against them in the last few years." That paper concludes: "Their rapid growth, the tremendous volume of business they handle, the telling effect of their competition on the local independent stores, and other phases of the chain-store development present a study and a problem which are engaging attention in other places besides the State Legislatures."

"Attempts to provide special taxation for chain stores in other States," records the ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT, "have failed chiefly because most State Constitutions particularize closely as to taxation, and their courts are disposed to construe provisions rather literally. In Federal taxation, Congress has a freer hand than does the average Legislature, and aside from the prohibition on tariff taxes and confiscatory imposts, there are few Federal inhibitions on the State taxes that may be levied. The United States Supreme Court, accordingly, finds nothing in Indiana's law repugnant to Federal requirements. Revenue raising, however, is not the main purpose for which most of the State legislation relative to chain stores has been proposed. To tax nationally owned chain stores out of existence by placing on them greater burdens than on the locally owned single store is what has been aimed at, or, at least, a beginning in taxing them out of existence." The GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE recognizes confirmation of "authority to enact laws tending to equalize the struggle between these stores and independent concerns for business."

"The decision," thinks the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, "gave impetus to the proposition of placing higher taxes on the chains. The Legislatures of Ohio, Illinois and North Carolina at once began shaping bills to correspond to the license levies in Indiana." The Observer finds that "the fairest deliverance on the subject that has come to its attention" is that of the New York Journal of Commerce, which states: "If the independent retailer really needs the special advantages afforded by discriminatory taxes, in order to meet the competition of chains that are not guilty of unfair practices, his right to survive becomes problematical. If, on the other hand, abuses arise through chain store competition of a kind that threatens the existence of efficient, independent businesses, relief should be provided by attacking specific abuses, not by attempting to penalize fair and efficient chains that have demonstrated their social worth."

"The tax of $25 on each store could just as well be made $2500," suggests the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST, raising the question of "whether the Supreme Court is prepared to permit confiscation of any legitimate business under the guise of taxation in these days is questionable, although there are many who think the court will abide by the dictum of Marshall that the

Bent on the task they came to do.

Bearing the fertile pollen far
I thought how strange God's marvels are.

Fragile and lovely to the eye
Behold the wondrous butterfly.

Gay liveried servant of the flowers
Surpassing any work of ours.

Never I'm sure from brain of man
Could come so delicate a plan.

Only from God's design could spring
So helpful and so fair a thing!

Vets To Boost Rev. McClung For State Chaplain

Chaplain Of McBride Post Will Have Support Of Vets Of District

SEEK TO HAVE GRAVES MARKED

During a discussion of the plans for the annual state encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to be held at Conneaut Lake, June 18, 19 and 20, it was revealed that Rev. Nathan McClung, honorary chaplain of the Harry L. McBride Post will be boosted for state chaplain of the V. F. W.

Rev. McClung will have the support of the V. F. W. posts in the Tri-Country district of Mercer, Butler and Lawrence counties.

Credentials were prepared for the delegates to the encampment, who include Commander T. John Stoner, District Commander James A. Bell, Jack Williams, Orville Potter, Ivor V. Davis, F. L. Wimer, Clarence A. Leslie, Charles E. Allen, A. F. Miller, Frank Conner and A. A. Jones. The alternates are Leslie Wooley, George Christoff, Jack LaRue, William Evans, Frank E. Nessle, Lawrence Quehl, Ernest Treharne, J. J. Johnston, Lewis Zeigler and Robert Kerr.

Report of the annual Poppy Day sale was made by Chairman A. F. Miller, showing the net receipts to be only slightly over $100.

It was reported by members of the post who visited the cemeteries to decorate the graves for Memorial Day, that a great number of graves do not bear markers. These are issued free of charge by the government for the graves of veterans of all wars, and during the coming year, an attempt will be made by the post to have as many of these graves maked by a permanent marble marker as possible.

A committee was named to visit the various cemeteries and ascertain the number of unmarked graves, so that work on this project can be started as speedily as possible.

power to tax is the power to destroy." The ST. LOUIS TIMES feels that "the tax to be charged is by no means confiscatory or even large enough to be seriously opposed" and that it should "not affect the profitable conduct of the stores involved" and that it "will put the independents in a better position for fair competition."

"Individual merchants, "advises the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE, "will do well to ponder all aspects of the decision. It may increase legislative influence on private business competition." The CHARLESTON (W. VA.) DAILY MAIL declares: "There is much probability in the view that if the chain stores do prove to be an economic success, not only from the point of view of the chains themselves but of the public generally, they are likely to persist."

"Extravagant States," thinks the NEW YORK SUN, "may look to the tax as one more fountain of cash. In States more wise it will be regarded as inequitable, a bar to competition and an impost on enterprise." The BALTIMORE EVENING SUN advises that "the chain stores are to be penalized, not necessarily because the Supreme Court thinks they should be penalized, but because, in penalizing them, the Indiana State Legislature has not gone counter to the Supreme Court's theory of taxation." The CHICAGO DAILY NEWS offers the judgment: "The chain store must justify itself economically. If it ministers to the public welfare, opposition to it is irrational and in the long run will be futile, like opposition to labor-saving and capital-saving improvements generally. Meanwhile the efficient and well-managed independent store needs no artificial legislative props."

"No relief to individual traders" is expected by the NEW YORK TIMES which assumes that "confiscatory taxation would not be permitted by the Court.' The TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL points out that "one of the moral effects of the decision is to further discredit 'uniform and equal' taxation as any sort of modern foundation for a tax system."

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief.

Why cutting does not remove the cause?

Do you know the cause of Piles is internal?

That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, heals and restores the affected parts. This remedy has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers.

Don't waste time on external remedies or think of an operation until you have tried a bottle of HEM-ROID tablets. Eckerd's, New Castle Drug Co. guarantees money back if they do not end Piles in any form.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

The great Lord Tennyson in a beautiful poem refers to a woman's Adam's Apple as "The warm white apple of her throat." Consider your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple—That is your larynx—your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Protect the delicate tissues within your throat. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants! Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

Dr. Robt. Speer Brings Message

Noted Divine Brings Inspiring Missionary Message To Large Congregation

Says Old World Countries Are Swiftly Being Overcome By Christianity

Never was a more inspiring and encouraging missionary message brought to an audience than that delivered Wednesday evening to a crowded auditorium in the First Presbyterian church, when Dr. Robert E. Speer, noted clergyman, teacher and missionary, brought a message that will long remain with his hearers.

"There is evidence on every hand throughout Asia that Christianity is slowly but surely gaining headway," said Dr. Speer as he told of a recent trip he had made over Asia, in company with Dr. Hugh Thompson Kerr, well known minister of Pittsburgh.

By 8 o'clock, the time set for the opening of the service, every seat in the large auditorium was filled and the door thrown open into the Sunday school room. Dr. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the church, opened the service and the choir, Mrs. Lillian Butcher Stambaugh, Mrs. James A. Rugh, Howard Wylie and Charles Richard, sang a beautiful anthem and Rev. J. Greer Bingham, pastor of Wampum Persbyterian church, offered the prayer. Many missionary hymns were sung with vim by the congregation, after which Dr. McClure introduced the speaker of the evening, saying that the ministers of today, who had had the privilege of being in the Presbyterian college 20 years ago, held in their mind many outstanding teachers of that day, but none of them were more vividly in the minds than Dr. Robert E. Speer, who is now senior secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church and a past moderator of the general assembly.

Dr. Speer in opening his address, which was of a most inspirational missionary nature, told that an address which had been given in the closing session of the general assembly in Pittsburgh Wednesday morning reminded him most vividly of the recent trip he and Dr. Hugh Thompson Kerr of Pittsburgh had taken not so long ago, through the countries of Asia, sizing up the missionary situation.

Dr. Speer said that at the present time there is a distinct change being made in the political, economical and social elements of the Asian countries and this brings up the question of whether or not the religious element is being changed also, and most emphatically Dr. Speer answers "Yes". He said on every hand in traveling through these countries there was the dominant impression and realization of the enormous forces of change, with something appalling about the magnitude and seriousness of it. These over eight million people are cutting loose from their old moorings and the seething mass of change in the political, economical and social upheaval brings the great concern to us as to whether in the change there is a religious upheaval also. Some persons would have us believe that these nations will never become Christianized, but one can see they are leaving their old superstitions and beliefs behind and are accepting the ideals of Jesus Christ.

Illustrative of this point Dr. Speer cited several outstanding incidents they had met up with on this trip that most decidedly pointed out the truth of the statement, as, in Japan, he had been invited to participate in a reception for William Elliott Griffis, who had been outstanding in bringing modern education to that country, and as Mr. Griffis spoke to this group, which numbered thousands of Japanese Christians, it was with amazement that the younger element heard that at the beginning of Mr. Griffis' work in Japan it was considered a serious crime to be a Christian.

He spoke of southern China, where they had attended a Christian service, where there were women elders assisting in distributing the sacrament of the Lord's supper.

And here in the center of the campus of the greatest Christian college in China is the grave of the first Christian preacher.

In northern Korea, Dr. Speer said, the church bells ring out all day on Sunday and here from a handful of Christians a few years ago, there are now 30 large congregations.

Christianity Creeps In.

He spoke of the worship of Buddha in Japan and told how Christian doctrines had slowly but gradually crept into this religion and the people of today are embracing the teachings of Christ, but still calling in Buddhism.

In China the old temples, "The Temple of Heaven" and the "Temple of Gold", which were built to the old gods, are being allowed to deteriorate and in one place where he visited, the priest in the temple where there were more than 1,000 images of Buddha, showed them through the temple, and here in the cell of the priest was found a copy of the Bible.

He spoke of Italy and told of an incident at a barrister's dinner being held in that place, where a Hindu magician and monologist was entertaining and as he made jokes about the gods of Hindu, the gathering was highly amused, but when he began making jokes about Jesus Christ and telling unseemly stories, the men arose in a body and evicted him and this from a group that was not Christian.

Even if the nations have not accepted Jesus Christ and the Christian religion as a country, still it has seeped in and these nations recognize the supremacy of Jesus Christ.

The world is by no means Christian, but there is every evidence that it will be, but we must share, we must unfalteringly go on with the great missionary movement, and not be satisfied with anything less than an entirely Christian world and this can be done if we share our Christian knowledge with these countries by sending forth emissaries and giving of our substance to support the movement.

"What we have, let us share with a world that is ready to receive," concluded Dr. Speer.

The splendid service was brought to a close with a benediction by Dr. H. C. Weaver, pastor of the First Methodist church.

JELLIES AND JAMS MADE AT HOME ARE GOOD INVESTMENT

Every housewife has the chance to "get ahead" next winter by putting up fruit now. Sugar is low in price, and there are always bargain days for each fruit and berry.

A little concentrated effort as each fruit crop reaches its peak will result in a cupboard well stocked with canned fruits, jellies, jams and relishes from which one may draw freely throughout the winter.

Since fruit belongs in the diet and should appear in some form at every meal, the economy of a home supply is readily apparent. Cane sugar is ideal for all kinds of canning. Preserve with refined cane sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Public Library Being Extensively Used Now

With the approach of the second half of the year, Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, reports that the first six months of 1931 witnessed even more extensive use made of the library's facilities by readers of all ages, for however business may be in other fields of endeavor, it is good at the library.

"To my knowledge," said Miss Sterling, "no statistics of a comparative nature are available on the subject, but it is my observation that the harder the times, the more do adults make use of their library. As far as the younger people are concerned, their liberal use of the library in school work and for pleasure is more or less constant year in and year out.

"It seems, however, that when people have plenty of money to spend, they indulge in their favorite luxuries, and come back to their library for entertainment and profit when the pocketbook is not bulging.

Every month during 1931 has seen a gain in circulation as compared with the same month of 1930. The gain in May over May of last year was 30%.

"In other words, it is often the case that the library is compelled to render its most extensive and valuable service during those years when its patrons are most inclined to reduce expenditures."

Farmers Expect Bumper Crops

County Crop Conditions Are Best In Years, Local Observers State

Crop conditions in general in Lawrence County are the best in many years, J. Audley Boak, of R. F. D. No. 4 stated this morning.

Not only have most crops secured a better stand than usual, but they are perhaps a little more advanced he stated, and Lawrence county farmers should harvest the best crops of corn, oats, hay, wheat and rye, in years. In addition, there will be a bumper fruit crop, Mr. Boak predicted.

Many sections of the state are not as fortunate as Lawrence county, Mr. Boak has found in his travels over the state this spring. In some sections he visited, wheat which was planted last fall did not come up at all because of the drought.

Rye is now beginning to head up, but will not be ready for harvesting until after wheat, although the latter has not headed out as far yet, Mr. Boak said.

When conditions are normal, the farmers in this section of the state start cutting their wheat around the Fourth of July, but rye is not ready for cutting until a little later than that.

There is an excellent crop of grass this year in this section, while wheat and oats are better than normal, with an excellent crop of corn in prospect, Mr. Boak has found.

Coal Operators Discuss Tariff

New Canadian High Tariff On Coal Will Affect Industry

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4.—Mixed opinion as to effect of the new Canadian high tariff on coal imports from the United States was reflected today among anthracite coal operators and others interested in Pennsylvania's mining industries, an International News Service survey showed.

But all of them agreed on one thing—the Canadian tariff will have a depressing effect on coal mining in the state for the immediate future, at least.

Industries Affected

"The levy of a tariff on anthracite and bituminous coal and on coke by the Canadian government," said Walter H. Glasgow, state secretary of mines, at Harrisburg, "cannot but adversely affect both the anthracite and bituminous industries in Pennsylvania—particularly the latter.

"Imposition of a tariff of forty cents a ton on Pennsylvania anthracite will undoubtedly have a depressing effect on that industry in the state, making necessary stronger efforts by anthracite producers to retain Canadian markets and possibly necessitating sharp changes in production schedules."

Increase of the bituminous tariff from 50 to 75 cents a ton and levy of $1 a ton tariff on coke, formerly free, will combine to hit the already troubled bituminous industry, Glasgow said.

Chicago Bandits Kill Truck Driver

Ice Cream Truck Driver Slain As He Refuses To Yield To Holdup

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 4.—Angered because Oscar E. Erickson, driver of an ice cream truck, wanted to serve some customers before he yielded to a stickup, two young bandits today shot and killed him.

A family waiting in an automobile to be served witnessed the shooting which police declared was the most cold-blooded of the year.

Erickson had made no pretense of resistance. One of the robbers hit him in the face and the other said scornfully, "Aw, plug him!" The first bandit shot the defenseless driver through the heart.

After the killing, the bandits fled without taking the small amount, $12.25, which the driver carried.

The public, having been asked to join in the movement to reduce in the cost of government, should respond by reducing the amount of government.—The Haverhill Gazette.

MANY ALUMNI TO RETURN FOR COMMENCEMENT

Westminster Grads Of Years Ago Are Returning To Campus For Ceremonies

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June 4.—Many alumni and former students of Westminster college plan to return for the commencement week activities according to Dr. S. E. Calhoun, New Wilmington, president. Reservations for dinner tickets were sent in by 185 alumni up to Tuesday of this week, and there is every indication that many more will come in before Saturday.

Class day is Saturday, June 6. The annual alumni dinner is scheduled at noon in the United Presbyterian church parlors. The annual meeting of the alumni will follow the dinner, Dr. Calhoun announces. Many class reunions will take place on Saturday evenings, with special dinners and picnics being arranged by class officers.

Letters from secretaries of the classes which will hold reunions indicate that more alumni and former students than ever plan to be on hand for the 79th commencement season. The classes which will hold reunions are: 1891, W. W. Campbell, New Wilmington, chairman; 1896, Dr. W. D. Gamble, Sharon, chairman.

Class of 1901, Attorney M. M. Edmundson, Pittsburgh, chairman; 1906, Dr. S. E. Calhoun, New Wilmington, chairman; 1911, George M. Phillips, Pittsburgh, chairman; 1916, Attorney E. V. Buckley, Sharon, chairman; 1921, George Martin, Langeloth, chairman; and 1926, Attorney Joseph R. McFate, New Castle, chairman.

The committee in charge of the alumni dinner, made up of members of the New Wilmington chapter, is headed by Mrs. William McElwee. Mrs. Lauren Thompson is in charge of decorations. The general officers of the alumni society, will constitute a committee in charge of the alumni day activities. These officers are: S. E. Calhoun, New Wilmington, president; Prof. W. D. Gamble, Sharon, vice-president; Miss Mae McKelvey, New Wilmington, secretary; H. T. Getty, New Wilmington, treasurer.

Song sheets have been printed for the alumni dinner. Many old college songs as well as new songs are included on the song sheets. A large numbers of signs have been printed to direct alumni and former students to the various registration and meeting places. Each reunion class will have its own headquarters somewhere near the campus where members of the class may talk over old times with one another.

One class, 1901, has already planned a class banquet in the Castleton hotel, New Castle, on Saturday evening. During the commencement week activities, the members of 1901 will use the residence of J. C. Houston on Market street as headquarters. Other classes plan to use the Robertson house, Thompson house, Minteer house, and McKelvey house as headquarters. These houses are used as freshman girls' dormitories during the year.

The traditional senior sing and the peace pow wow, both events scheduled on the south campus on Saturday evening, will attract many alumni. The Christian associations sermon on Sunday morning, and the baccalaureate service on Sunday evening will also be attended by alumni and former students.

Business Men To Discuss New Postal Measure

Congressman Clyde Kelly To Address National Convention On Amended Bill

The recent amendment to postal regulations, enabling merchants and other business men more readily to trace elusive and delinquent accounts, will be discussed at the annual convention of the National Retail Credit association in St. Louis June 16-19. Representative Clyde Kelly of Pittsburgh, who introduced the measure in the last session of congress, will be one of the leaders in the discussion.

Under the title "Return Registry Receipt Address Bill" the measure was passed by the senate January 26. Since that time postmasters throughout the country have been informed of the passage of the bill and the machinery set in motion for its operation.

According to Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit bureau, a merchant sometimes faces a situation where a customer owing a bill moves to another city without informing his creditors of his new location. Heretofore, Mr. Hall said, "the search for the customer in most instances was both costly and unsatisfactory. Even the registry regulations under the old system did not always reveal the location of the person sought.

"Under the operation of the new law," he said, "a merchant seeking to locate a customer addresses a letter to the last available address and registers it in the usual way. In addition, however, the merchant requests a return receipt together with the address at which the customer accepted the letter. There is the regular registration charge of 17 cents and addition the merchant must pay 23 cents for the return service.

"When the delivery of the letter is completed the merchant not only has the signature of the recipient but also his new address.

"Under the new regulations merchants who send valuable merchandise through the mails will be able to learn just where it was delivered as well as receiving the receipt of the recipient; banks, trust companies and fiduciaries generally, in making distributions of trust funds now have the added advantage of learning exactly to what place their distributions have gone, as well as to whom, and business generally through the medium of this legislation will have an immediate starting point to trace lost, strayed or stolen registered mail matter."

Milan Petrovits, Pittsburgh Artist Accuses Kane Of Painting Photographs

Accused Artist Expresses Mild Surprise—Many Have Purchased Paintings

By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, June 4.—A first class art controversy broke into the open here today when the works of John Kane, exhibitor in Carnegie internationals in Washington and New York art galleries, were denounced as painted photographs.

Milan Petrovits, Pittsburgh artist, is Kane's accuser. Petrovits declared his first suspicions, aroused over Kane's painting, "Dad's Pay Day," in the associated artists exhibition here in February, were confirmed when varnish remover took the paint from a work titled "The Doctor" in the junior league exhibit and revealed a photograph underneath.

Artist Surprised.

Kane expressed mild surprise over the furors. The artist, a former house painter and untutored mill worker, denied that any of his canvases are painted photographs and only a few of his paintings on paper are photographs. He said:

"All my paintings in the internationals have been free hand work on canvas. All my canvases are free hand. About four or five paintings in the junior league are over photographs."

To which Petrovits retorted:

"Painting over photographs is absolutely unethical. It isn't fair that this man should be accepted for the Carnegie international while all the rest of the Pittsburgh artists are rejected.

"It isn't art."

Many Buy Pictures.

Purchasers of Kane pitchers include Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., John Dewey, Duncan Phillips, John Walker III and Andrew Dasburg. Most of his works have been purchased at prices ranging from $10 to slightly more than $400.

He has exhibited in New York at the Modern Museum of Art, the Corcoran Galleries, in Washington, in every international since 1927 and in associated artists' exhibitions. His last international picture, hailed by an ever-expanding circle of critics as a naive, sincere painting, is "Across the Strip." It was purchased for the Phillips memorial collection in Washington, D. C., regarded as a high honor by American artists.

In Midst of Catholic Crisis

In the breach between the Italian Government and the Vatican in Rome stand these four leaders of State and the Church. A series of bombings, threats and general violence participated in by Fascists and Catholics has brought relations between Mussolini (upper right) and Pope Pius (upper left) to a strained point. Cardinal Pacelli (lower right), Papal Secretary of State, represents the Vatican in its relations with Mussolini's government.

Most of his time was spent in Tripolis and Athens, although short visits were made to Patros, Greece and to Naples, Italy, Cannes, France and Gilbraltar. At Gilbraltar he visited the famous fortress of the British government.

When he was in Greece, the olive groves presented a beautiful sight, with their clusters of blossoms hanging down. The farms of the country seem to promise a bounteous crop for the year, but the industrial and business conditions are bad.

But she does admit she'd rather be somersaulting in the air than "dating" with the boys. Newspapers Publish Facts That Navy Will Not Stand For Economy Cut

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The White House took exception to dispatches published by some newspapers today which practically stated the navy department will take no part in President Hoover's economy drive by reducing governmental expenditures because it has already cut its budget to the bone.

Secretary of the Navy Adams and his subordinates will spend the week-end with the president at his Virginia camp discussing ways and means of cutting expenses.

Senator Davis Benefactor For Luckless Hiker

Hitch-Hiker Loses False Teeth, Senator Davis Buys New Ones

BAD LUCK TURNS OUT GOOD LUCK

(International News Service)

HAZLETON, Pa., June 4.—Many a tale of woe has come out of the economic depression gripping the United States, but U. S. Senator James J. Davis today lay claim to having heard the ace of hard luck stories. It was the story told by a luckless hitch-hiker picked up by the senator enroute from Wilkes-Barre.

"I have been hard hit by this slump," the hiker told the senator. "Up to last night, although stripped of all material wealth, I still enjoyed my health, a ravenous appetite and a fine set of store teeth, capable of taking on all shinbone steaks to the choicest cuts— if any.

Teeth Are Stolen.

"But last night some souvenir hunter relieved me of my teeth and this morning I had to fill myself up on oatmeal instead of the savory bacon and eggs a kindhearted philanthropist offered me."

"Cheer up, brother," quoth Senator Davis. "If I can put teeth in an economic speech I can put teeth in an economic victim. Come over to the dentist's and I'll stake you to a new set of grinders."

And they repaired to the office of Dr. Martin A. Corrigan, where the wayfarer was soon outfitted.

"Ah," quoth he, "I feel like myself again."

"Nothing like trying them out," replied the senator. "Here's a couple of dollars. Go over to a restaurant and put them to work."

A few minutes later the hitch-hiker and a whole restaurant staff were out of the ranks of the temporarily unemployed.

OOPS! CLEANUP TIME NOT EXACTLY ANNUAL AFFAIR AT CENTRAL

The spectacle of widespread activity among central station firemen who handled mop and washcloth with surprisingly dexterity this morning provoked the question of whether an annual house-cleaning season was at hand.

"We don't have an 'annual' cleaning season here" Fire Chief Lynn declared emphatically, "no such time at all, because we keep the apparatus and station house in good condition all the time."

Truck "A" with its long ladders, was receiving the attention of firemen who overhauled it from top to bottom. "B" truck and the Knox pumper received similar treatment. The walls and floor were washed. Then firemen ascended to their sleeping quarters to continue their cleaning task.

Muny Garbage Plant Operates Five Years Without Using Coal

One usually associates garbage with sour smells and equally sour looking collections of second hand cabbage and peelings from early June spuds. To believe that a garbage plant could be clean and free from odor seems far fetched, and yet the New Castle garbage disposal plant is just that thing, clean, free from odor, and a stranger passing by might imagine it to be anything but what it is.

Located out on Sampson street the rather small building on the right of the road disposes of approximately 25 tons of garbage every day, and with the warm summer months coming on this will be increased to perhaps 40 tons. In other words 80,000 pounds of garbage per day will be incinerated without any of the less pleasing aspects of garbage disposal.

No Coal Used.

The pits where the garbage is burned are a reminder of the "fiery furnace" they used to teach in the old time Sunday school, but no coal is used. Not a pound of coal has been used in five years out there, the type of furnace used being such that the garbage is its own fuel.

This is accomplished through the use of a pre-heating chamber and a series of tubes that carry hot air under the grates. All day long the flames billow up towards the opening reaching out a fiery hand for more fuel, and every few minutes a truck back up and proceeds to spill its load into the capacious maw of the furnace.

A trip out to the plant is one of the pleasing things in the administration of municipal affairs. There is no fuss, no lost motion, just a steady efficient operation that results in New Castle being kept free of garbage, and destroys that garbage with little or no odor. And all of this is done through taxes at a cost that seems small for the good accomplished.

Two Furnaces.

Two furnaces are in use all day long, according to Howard I. Phillips, the superintendent. Each furnace has three heavy lids on, and in order to get the garbage to the furnace, all that is necessary to do is push the lids and back the truck near the openings. As the day's grow warmer and the amount of garbage increases it will be necessary to run the furnaces at night, but always the floor of the plant is kept clean of garbage.

Down stairs the pre-heating chamber serves two purposes. First it radiates the heat back under the grates and, second, it provides a chamber where dead dogs and horses are incinerated. An efficient chamber, and one that might have been used for the purpose of frightening Daniel.

Al daly long the trucks roll into the plant, a man opens the lids of the furnaces and the garbage drops quickly out of sight. A fan is turned on and a quiet hum ensues. Opening the peep hole of the furnace one sees long red tongues of flame wrap themselves around the packages of what had been left from some family's lunch and in a few moments the garbage is reduced to a fine ash.

The garbage disposal plant is one plant well worth seeing. A trip out there will convince you of the reason for wrapping your garbage and also remind you why they do not want cans put into your garbage container.

County May Repair Neshannock Bridge

Plan To Fix Under-Pinning, Build New Rails And Maybe Pave Cartway

Councilman Louis Genkinger yesterday conferred with County Commissioner P. O. Elder and out of the powow will come repairs to the bridge which spans Neshannock creek in East Washington street, according to the councilman.

He pointed out to Elder that since removal of the dam the piling beneath the bridge has become exposed and he told Elder he believed this would result in rot.

According to the councilman Elder promised that "under pinning" would be installed and covered with cement.

Elder also said that the railings should be removed, and new ones built which would contain cement flower boxes.

The commissioner also intimated, according to Genkinger that the cartway over the bridge would be repaved.

Rooming List Is Discontinued

In previous years, when a number of outside girls were elected to teach in the New Castle Schools, many New Castle citizens placed rooms at their disposal. The names of citizens who rented rooms were filed with the school board and this list was used for reference by the teachers.

For the past several years there have been few out of town teachers employed in New Castle and for this reason the list of rooms available for teachers has been discontinued.

Grave Responsibility Rests Upon Parents Of Precocious Children

Dr. Myers Explains How Average Home Holds Serious Hazards For Especially Gifted Youngsters

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education, Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

Parents of precocious children have good reasons to be proud of them. They also have good reasons to feel the weight of a grave responsibility. If they do most that is possible for their children they will achieve superior self-control. Being human like the rest of us, they will frequently be tempted to do their children harm and do it unawares.

In my forthcoming book, "Building Personality in the Child at Home," I say: The average home has serious hazards for the gifted child. His parents, upon learning that he has a very high I. Q. are overwhelmed with joy. But instead of centering attention upon the child's development and social adaptation, they are distraught with intoxicating pride. Believing firmly in inheritance, they see some brilliancy reflected in themselves. In the fact that the child is very bright these parents see and feel distinction socially. Almost unawares, they exploit this fact. They spread the news among their neighbors, friends and relatives. They even boast about the child's ability in his presence just as if he, by mere dint of effort, had acquired his "brains."

Their associates and relatives, in turn, remind the child of his superior power. "I'm a high I. Q.," shouted an overbearing lad of seven, as he came into my study. He rated 135, but had been in school two years without having learned to read. He memorized so well what he heard others read that he had fooled his teacher all the while. When I attempted to teach him he was so conceited that I had great difficulty to lead him to learn.

Not all high I. Q. children are so intolerable; some are very likable, indeed; nevertheless they have more opportunities to be prigs than do dull and average children. How unfortunate, since they are the potential leaders of society, inventors and creators in business and in commerce, in science, art, and music. Unless more parents of such children turn about and cease to rob these children of an intelligent home training, most of them will merely be as "flowers born to blush unseen and waste their sweetness on the desert air." They may be worse; they may be social nuisances.

Superior children need more at home than mere absence of reminders of precocity. They need definite training in responsibility. They should have to do some hard things about the home and be held strictly to performing such things very well. They need training in doing simple tasks with accuracy. In their ordinary routine habits about the home they should acquire a passion for precision. They should have training in self-sacrifice and in sportsmanship. Accustomed to excel often through their cleverness, they should learn to win in games without braggadocio and to lose without anger or undue discouragement. Above all, they need training in humility and appropriate regard for others' rights and feelings.

No matter how proficient they may be in certain skills, or how superior their wisdom may become, they cannot develop into leaders or other people if they are not likable. Not by power nor by might, but by being socially attractive will they grow into the place among their fellows which by nature they are mentally endowed to fill.

LOOKING BACK

IN NEW CASTLE

New Castle High school had its inception in what is today the W. N. Aiken grade school on Pearson street. In the days when the high school was located in this building, it was known as the Reynoldstown or Pearson street school, as the individual might happen to designate it. The high school classes met on the third floor of the building and the number of students were not large, neither was the faculty. The first graduating class was that of 1879. The high school course at that time was three years. The first faculty consisted of three persons, Prof. Martin Gantz, a foremost educator in his day, who was known beyond the limits of this particular city, was the principal. He had two assistants Lizzie Machath Young and the Belle Andrews. In 1880, the faculty consisted of Prof. Gantz, Jennie Andrews (Mrs. J. N. Martin), Isaac Newton Moore, Mrs. Edgar, wife of a Westminster College professor and Ella Russell. The high school classes were continued until 1884 in this building. Graduating classes were small, eight being a class of considerable size in those days. Among the members of the first graduating class were the late Samuel Foltz, John Reis, who became so prominent in the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation and other successful persons.

PERRY HIGHWAY VIADUCT TO BE OPENED TO USE

Structure Is Completed And Will Be Ready For Traffic In Few Days

When the viaduct over the Western Allegheny tracks is thrown open for use within the next few days, the last detour between Pittsburgh and the big swamp near Sheakleyville, will be removed.

The structure is now completed and ready for traffic and will be thrown open for use as soon as the concrete has had the required length of time to harden.

This will remove quite a lengthy detour, and will add the finishing touches to a stretch of highway approximately 70 miles in length, between Pittsburgh and Sheakleyville.

The bridge over Slippery Rock Creek has been in use now for several weeks, adding more convenience to those who use the route.

WESTMINSTER TO INCREASE COURSES IN JOURNALISM STARTING THIS FALL

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June 4—A larger program of studies in journalism will be offered at Westminster College next year according to announcement made this week. A number of courses in newspaper writing will be added to those already on the schedule and a four year program for students who wish to major in journalism and English will be available for freshmen.

The courses in the program will include: newspaper reporting and correspondence: headline writing copy reading and make-up: history and principles of journalism: advertising, copy writing and technique: teaching of journalism in the high school: supervision of school publications: advanced composition: senior writing: and business English.

Background courses in government, history, sociology, economics, psychology, and literature will also be included in the four year program. Students who wish to major in journalism and English will be qualified to teach journalism and English in high schools and to supervise student publications: to enter the profession of journalism as reporters: or to take graduate work in journalism.

At least six graduated of Westminster in the last four years are now on newspaper staffs, seven are teaching journalism and supervising student publications, and one is taking graduate work in journalism at Northwestern University.

The three college publications: newspaper, yearbook, and handbook, offer opportunity for practical work along journalistic lines. All students in the journalism courses will be required to have a minimum amount of material published.

Courses in advertising, a part of the program of the enlarged department of economics and business administration, will also be recommended for journalism students because of the close relationship between the success of the editorial and business ends of newspaper publishing.

Letters have been received from 20 high school seniors asking about the enlarged program of journalistic studies, so it is probable that a good-sized class of students will start the work in September.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute.

RARE DISEASE VICTIM FACES DEATH CALMLY

CLEVELAND, O., June 4.—The Rev. Ralph Thurber, Korean missionary, today calmly discussed with physicians a rare disease which he expects will take his life within a month.

Known as distomiasis, the disease is not uncommon in the Orient but rarely found in America, physicians said it is contracted from eating a certain kind of a fish, peculiar to Oriental waters.

While physicians were coping with the disease upon a scant knowledge of the subject and its treatment, the Rev. Thurber was aiding them with what information he posessed.

"I know quite a bit about distomiasis," he said, "having been in such close contact with others who have been afflicted with it. I doubt very much if I live longer than a month. It is usually fatal.

"One contracts it by eating certain fish which carry a small parasite. When the parasite gets in your system, it lodges in the liver and reproduces itself."

During his 10 years service in the missionary fields of Korea, China and Japan, he encountered many cases of the malady, the clergyman said he knew of only five cases which have been reported in America.

Dr. H. J. Knapp, health commissioner, said the parasite is known as "liver fluke" which attacks the victim secondarily when the infected fish is eaten. No fish in the western world is known to carry the "fluke" Dr. Knapp said.

The Rev. Thurber is a member of the Christian Missionary Alliance church of Nyack, N. Y. He has been on furlough in this country for more than a month.

Freshness is only one step in getting GOOD COFFEE

We've learned a lot about coffee in the last 72 years. And the most important thing is . . . that your best coffee is the coffee you like best . . . no matter what it costs or how it is packed.

Of course you want your coffee fresh. That's as important as having a coffee that exactly suits your taste. So A & P has made natural freshness of newly-roasted coffee—the out-of-the-oven freshness that cannot be imitated—a prime essential of A & P Coffee Service. And we are able, as no other coffee merchant is able, to guarantee this natural freshness. You see, we sell more coffee by far than any other organization. The coffee sells so fast that there's no time for any of it to become stale.

lb. 21¢ — Money cannot buy better coffees than these. Their low prices are possible only because A & P handles so large a quantity of coffee—far more than any other organization in the world, and controls every step from the growers to you.

But that's only one point to consider. We've found what people like in coffee—in its flavor, body, aroma and strength. And we found years ago that no one blend can please everyone. So we developed, as you know, three different blends, Eight O'Clock, Red Circle and Bokar. One of these three blends far outsells all other coffees in the world; another is the second largest seller. The third has already won fifth place in the few years it has been on the market.

Money cannot buy better coffees than these. Their low prices are possible only because A & P handles so large a quantity of coffee—far more than any other organization in the world, and controls every step from the growers to you. lb. 25¢

Again, here's something else. Have you ever thought what perfect grinding means in making good coffee? Not ready-made, open-the-box grinding, but accurate, carefully adjusted grinding that guarantees your coffee in exactly the right condition to give you perfect results from your favorite method of coffee making. What a difference that makes! Understand, too, that we don't want simply to sell you coffee. We want you to enjoy it—to have perfect coffee in your cup. So we've studied the methods of coffee experts, and have gathered these methods together in the form of simple, accurate directions for making perfect coffee by any method. They're in our Coffee Booklet. You may have one any time.

lb. 29¢ — Money cannot buy better coffees than these. Their low prices are possible only because A & P handles so large a quantity of coffee—far more than any other organization in the world, and controls every step from the growers to you.

When you add these points together, you get something you can find only in an A & P store . . . A & P Coffee Service.

Study coffee a little—and find a new pleasure and comfort in the grand old drink that has become America's best-loved beverage.

And again—remember that the coffee you like best is the best, no matter what it costs or how it is packed.

Hatching Season At State Game Farm Half Over

Approximately 6,000 Young Pheasants Now Scamper About Near Harlansburg

With the hatching season at the Jordan State Game Farm near Harlansburg about half over, there are approximately 6,000 young birds scampering about the place from one day to three weeks in age.

The birds are hatching out at a rate of a thousand or more a day, and it will take three more weeks before the season is ended. By that time, Supervisor H. J. Sines expects to have around 12,000 young birds under his protection.

These birds will be kept until fall, when they will be released throughout the state, enough being kept at the farm and wintered there to provide for the hatching season again next spring.

It is expected to winter a large number of birds during the coming winter than has been the case in the past. This will provide more eggs to be shipped out and for hatching purposes next year.

TO HONOR CLEMENCEAU

(International News Service)

AIGUINES, France.—A proposal has been made to erect a bust of the late Georges Clemenceau on the battle-field of Aups in this region where, December 10, 1851, about one hundred Republicans perished. It will be put up on the very spot where the old "Tiger" swore to republican loyalty. The committee in charge of the monument is composed of the descendants and parents of the republican victims of this insurrection of 1851. Their fathers and forefathers were the electors of Clemenceau, then deputy from the war department.

Then there was the lucky fellow who had so many exemption-bringing children that it made no difference to him how low Andy Mellon set the income tax figures.—The Charlotte News.

DANIEL MURPHY SECURES PATENT ON INVENTION ON AIR CONTROL DEVICE

Genius has come to Harbor street. Out of a modest little machine shop has come an air control device that is expected to revolutionize the use of air in tanks holding such liquids as acid or benzine, and the man responsible for the invention, Daniel Murphy, seems in a fair way to put himself beyond the reach of want.

Mr. Murphy is a mechanic, a good one, if you take the word of those who know him. For some time he has done the repair work on the tanks of the Grasselli Chemical company and as he worked the idea occurred to him that a device, such as he has patented, would save labor and the use of air pressure devices.

Trying It Out.

His idea grew and gradually he put it into tangible form. Finally the day came when he was ready to try his invention out and one of the contrivances was installed upon one of the Grasselli tanks. It is in use now and engineers of the company have passed upon it favorably.

The reason for the device is this: Where such corrosive liquids as acid are used in quantities, it is necessary to force them out of the tanks by air pressure instead of pumping. When the tanks were filled up it was necessary to discharge the air from the tank, and both processes were costly. In addition it was difficult to know just when the air would shut off and often the air pressure would be left on long after its use was unnecessary.

The Murphy air control device with automatic release automatically closes when enough air has been forced into the tank, and opens when it is necessary to release the air from the tank. If successful it will save a large amount of money for companies using air pressure.

In granting him the patent right the federal patent office said to Mr Murphy that this was the first time any such device had ever been presented to them, and instead of the usual one or two claims allowed, he was allowed 15 claims covering his rights on the invention.

Cascade Water Is Sought By Many

Warm Weather Results In Considerable Being Carried Away

With the advent of warm weather it will not be long until the "bottle line" forms in Cascade Park and when it does Manager Carl Shaner will be pleased.

Every season thousands of persons go to the park to obtain water from the springs located in various sections of the park.

The water is tested often.

Another feature of warm weather is that when it is impossible to sleep indoors many persons spend their nights on the green lawns at the park.

Seminary Student Will Occupy The German Baptist Pulpit During The Summer

Henry Pfeifer, a student in the Theological Seminary at Rochester, N. Y., will again occupy the pulpit of the German Baptist church on Reynolds street, for the summer.

Mr. Pfeifer did splendid work among the congregation during his summer vacation last year and they have again called him to take charge this year. He will occupy the pulpit Sunday and will continue to do so until the last of August.

The sermons in the church will be chiefly delivered in the German language although there will be some English services. In addition to the German Baptist church of this city Mr. Pfeifer will also serve the German Baptists of Ellwood City during the summer.

Body Build Determines Type Of Ill

Old Magic Arts Incorporated In Modern Science

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

In one of the great medical clinics in this country you might, during the last five years, behold a strange spectacle. Before a class of medical students a teacher is holding a diagnostic clinic. But it is not the usual kind of diagnostic clinic, in which the object is to decide from the evidence what disease the patient being presented has. In this clinic the patient is not asked about his symptoms at all. But his bodily form, the size of his bones, the relation between his height and weight, are all noted and the object of the clinic is frankly expressed as trying to find out what kind of a disease he ought to have with his type of bodily build.

This will seem fantastic, but an illustration may make it clear. Three individuals, A, B, and C, are all exposed to meningitis germs. None of them have ever been so exposed before. A gets meningitis and dies. B gets the disease and recovers. C does not catch the disease at all. Why? What is present in these three different bodies which makes them react so differently? We usually answer by saying "immunity." Yet what is immunity? Is is simply a different mode of chemical response or is it more than that? This new school thinks it is more and that the structure of the body has something to do with it, and that A's body inevitably predisposed him to die of meningitis.

This sort of study has made great progress in the last decade. The leaders of the movement in Europe are Dr. Kretschmer and Dr. Bauer. In this country they are Dr. Draper and Dr. Stockard. Dr. Draper has written a book which should be intelligible to any layman called, "Disease and the Man." Dr. Stockard has very recently published a book, "The Physical Basis of Personality."

The old arts of palmistry and physiognomy and phrenology have been to a certain extent revived and incorporated in this new science. Much of our modern science has evolved in this way from superstition and magic. Alchemy was a black art: its object was to change lower metals into gold; to attain this object its practitioners had to expose the lower metals to treatment with acid and to fire, etc., and while they never learned how to create gold, what did happen was that chemistry was born. Astrology studied the stars with the purpose of linking their movements with human destinies; this object was not accomplished, but during the study astronomy as a science came into being.

The old palmists and phrenologists and physiognomists went pretty far astray in their explanations. But still they seemed to have been in possession of certain solid facts. And these facts the modern students of "constitution" are building into a science.

For instance, one of their studies which shows its basis on the old art of physiognomy is to classify different types of faces. One of these is the gallbladder face and one the ulcer of the stomach face, and one the pernicious anemia face. People with such faces are predisposed to those diseases; they may never get them, but if exposed to them they run more chance than people with other kinds of faces.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabets," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

"S.S.S. gave me NEW STRENGTH —I NOW FEEL FINE"

Miss Pulliam

Miss Lottie Bell Pulliam, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My appetite was poor. I had lost weight—was nervous and could not sleep well at night. In my rundown condition even my joints ached. I took seven large size bottles of S.S.S. It greatly improved my condition. My appetite picked up. My weight was restored and I now feel fine—in fact, I feel like a new person. S.S.S. is a splendid blood tonic and I recommend it to my friends. My mother also took S.S.S. and it renewed her strength." You, too, will want to take S.S.S. A recruiting officer from the Navy Mr. Pearson, has made his home for some time with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. When friends from Gardner were guests last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gibbons of Haus Avenue, in New Castle they were shown a silver medal which was awarded to Miss Carrie Blanche Gibbons for high scholarship at State College where Miss Carrie is a student, and was one of a small group of girls who were so honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gray, Bobby and Evelyn June of New Castle and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson, of New Castle came to the Benson home at Gardner on Saturday evening. Miss Selma Benson spent Saturday afternoon with Miss Martha Ruha of Harrison street in New Castle.

Girls Going To Camp Next Week

Crowd Of Senior High School Girls Will Launch Season At Camp East Brook

Whoops of laughter, the clatter of dishes, sound of the bugle and the splashing of water will take the place of the quietude in which Camp East Brook has been enshrouded, next week.

Although the popular girls' camp does not officially open until June 22, when the Queen Esther M. E. conference commences, a lively group of senior high school Girl Reserves will invade the place June 9 and will make themselves at home for a grand seven days.

It will be the time of the annual Girl Reserve spring party and there will be about 35 members of the new and old cabinets and special guests out there.

Then, when the senior high girls leave the camp, another group of girls will be ready to take possession. This group of 40 or more is composed of Benjamin Franklin junior high school Girl Reserves. They will have a week at camp also, and are planning to have one grand, constant time.

The swimming pool, built a year ago, is in splendid shape and will be a popular feature of the camp this year. The tennis courts are being fixed up, and the staff members are arranging many surprise events to please the campsters.

No Fireworks To Be Allowed July Fourth

City Ordinance Prohibits Sale, Possession, Discharge, Mayor States

Mayor William H. Gillespie stated today that he would have city police rigidly enforce an ordinance, now three years old, which prohibits the sale, possession and discharge of fireworks of any character whatsoever within the corporate limits of New Castle on July 4.

Under the provisions of the ordinance which was introduced by Councilman Reeves in July of 1928 and passed later, any person who violates the city law upon conviction can be fined as high as $300 and in default can be sent to the county jail for 30 days.

There are several factories located outside the city which have contracts to furnish pyrotechnical displays in many of the cities of the country and at present they are working strenuously to fill all the orders.

The factories generally have skilled "shooters" who have complete charge of the display and as a result the probability of accidents are greatly minimized. The fireworks industry here is recognized all over the country.

Among the parks which annually conducts a beautiful display is Cascade Park and it is believed that there will be a big pyrotechnical display there this year. A display was conducted on the night of May 30.

Bo'Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

Central Press

NEW YORK June 4—The big problem today is not how to live within an income but how to live without one.

GIGGLE PROTECTION

It's all right. Cheer up. Follow the advice of Uncle Sam's paid publicity man. Advertise an optimistic attitude.

As Axel Munthe says, author of "San Michele."

"Even the devil himself can't hurt a man who has not forgotten how to laugh."

It may sound like bunk, but there's a lot in it.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

You hear a heap these days about "getting back to first principles. It's a good idea. Let's go 'way back, as far back as the nursery, and there dig out as neat a bit of the psychology of happiness and good cheer as ever was written. The lesson is to be found in the volume captioned "Mother Goose" and deals with a chap named Johnny Grace, who had a pain in his face, 'so bad" says the story, 'that he couldn't spell a letter."

What happened?

"Along came Tommy Long, singing such a funny song, that Johnny laughed and found his face much better."

TRUTH IS MIGHTY

"I don't care if you know it," says Margie Rambeau, good actress. "I'm thirty-seven."

Which recalls a story they tell of Maurice Francis Egan, educator, publicist, diplomat.

"You are, indeed, a true Irishman," said a friend. "You never spoil a story for want of a few facts."

"Facts," laughed Egan, "are a nuisance when a man wants to get at the truth of things."

RECOMMENDATION

If you want to read something worth while get a copy of "Noguchi" (Harpers) and learn the story of an artist whose art was science. Hideyo Noguchi, peasant's son from an obscure Japanese province stood before the world at the age of thirty-seven, honored by kings and nations.

Each of his scientific achievements would do honor to as many men, and the far-reaching results from his discoveries are bringing infinite good to untold millions of mankind.

Noguchi's pure, culturing the germ of syphilis his discovery of the causes of paresis and locomotor ataxia, his identification of Oroyo fever with another obscure and hitherto unrelated disease, his work on trachoma and Rocky Mountain spotted fever, and finally his heroic death in Africa caused by the dread yellow fever he was investigating are recounted in Dr. Gustav Eckstein's masterful biography of the little Japanese genius.

It's as gripping as any novel you ever read.

TRAGEDY

New York houses a number of Children Nobody Wants—hundreds of them all in quest of foster parents. They sit wistfully in the child shelters provided by the city's adoption organizations where men and women may go and look at them.

Nobody calls for them. Foster parents seek blue-eyed, fair-haired baby girls, preferably a year old or less and the Children Nobody Wants are for the most part over three years old. They are victims of broken homes—hard times.

The boys and girls of twelve, thirteen, fourteen and fifteen don't even look up when prospective parents enter. They know they're hopeless cases. They're too big. They aren't "cute."

SMART CRACK

One of New York's first-string play reviewers appeared at an 'important" first night in a sack suit. All the other Gents o' th' Press were in dinner clothes. Even the theatre men—everybody, except this particular Inky Brethren.

Feeling that an explanation was necessary—thereby confessing mediocrity—he said:

It's this way. I own only two dress shirts and they're both at the laundry."

"After all" said the theatre manager laughingly, 'why should a reviewer dress for an opening?"

To which the Sir Oracle of the dramatic section replied:

"Even a waiter dresses for his job."

I've related that story as it was told to me. There's probably some point to it. But after reading it over three times I'm hanged if I know just what the point is.

Gandhi, refusing to wear knee-breeches says: "I was never made to be ornamental." The remark puts golfers on the defensive.—The Duluth Herald.

HOLY NAME SOCIETIES BANQUET WEDNESDAY

applause that met the conclusion of each address.

The speaking program followed a most excellent dinner served by a large group of the ladies of St. Mary's parish directed by Mrs. Anne Eagan ,who came in for much praise for their work, which contributed much to the success of the evening. The speaking program was followed by moving pictures showing views of St. Vincent's college, Latrobe, Pa., one of the retreat centers and the activities that are carried on during the routine of the summer retreats. The pictures were shown in St. Mary's gymnasium in the old church building.

Many Speakers.

James T. Carey, chairman of the committee in charge of the occasion, presided as toastmaster at the dinner in a very able manner, introducing the various speakers and participants in the program, which included Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna, pastor of St. Mary's parish, who gave the invocation; Rev. Fr. Lucien Ducie C. P. of St. Paul's monastery, S. S. Pittsburgh; Daniel Hammil, president of the Diocesan Holy Name society; Rev. Fr. Bertrand Brookman, O. M. Cap, St. Fidelis college, Herman, Pa.; Rev. Fr. James A. Delaney, director of Holy Name societies in the diocese of Pittsburgh, and Rev. Fr. J. Dudley Nee, an assistant pastor at St. Mary's parish and district director of Holy Name societies in Lawrence county.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Toastmaster Carey in a few well chosen remarks thanked the ladies and all those who in any way had a part in making the occasion a success, and spoke of the purpose of the affair, namely, that of interesting the Catholic laymen in the retreat movement, which he stated was a move to assist the mother church in its effort to combat those tendencies that are so widespread today and which tend to cause unsettled and unpleasant conditions so prevalent in the world today.

He then introduced Rev. Fr. Lucien Ducie C. P. of St. Paul's monastery, S. S. Pittsburgh, retreat director at that institution, who proved a most able and interesting speaker and urged the need of Catholic laymen making these annual retreats.

Designating those who participate in the retreat movement as the lay apostolate and the movement as a means of getting laymen and women of the Catholic faith to think and act along the lines of their religious belief.

Retreat Movement.

He said among other things that "The Catholic church is the one fixed point in the present social chaos. The retreat movement is the crystalization of the movement that instills an inspiration, light and spiritual power in the lives of Catholic men. It makes possible the radiation of the Catholic church. A close study of the lay retreat movement and its effect on men will show why the church looks to the movement as a stronghold in the protection of the Catholic faith. It strengthens men to stand against the evils surrounding them on every side today.

"It inspires men to do and act in their homes, in the factory, in their office and in their neighborhood and in a manner that brings respect for them and their Catholic faith. Every man should be a lay apostle and help their priests, bishops and the Holy Father and the Catholic church in carrying on the work of Jesus Christ among their fellowmen."

The next speaker was Daniel Hammil of Pittsburgh, president of the Diocesan Holy Name society, who spoke briefly on the lay retreat movement. He stated that it was the duty of every man to take part in the movement and in church work. He explained that while the retreats were designed as a means of renewing interest in things pertaining to the religious life of the members of the Catholic church that in another sense it was a vacation that was a rest and benefited the physical man as well as the religious side of his daily life. He said that those who failed to participate missed out in something very beneficial and made the biggest mistake of their lives.

He said: "There are more temptations tampering with your faith today than ever before and it is your duty to know more about your faith, so that by your mode of life through its practice that you will no longer make it appear to those you meet in every day life that you are a 'Catholic' because you were one by birth, but because you believe in it and practice its teachings."

"Know Your Religion."

Rev. Fr. Bertrand Brookman, O. M. Cap., St. Fidelis college, Herman, Pa., was the next speaker and said among other things, "Know your religion. The retreat is the training school of your religion. There you learn many truths necessary to your salvation. You alone are responsible for your soul. Be an influence for good by being a good Catholic.

"Your neighbors judge the Catholic Church by you. They believe that the Catholic Church is good, if you are good." This is the day of the Catholic Laymen and you should make the most of it.

The concluding speaker of the program was Rev. Fr. James A. Delaney, diocesan director of Holy Name Societies. His address was very inspirational as he told of the work being done throughout the Diocese of Pittsburgh along the lines of the Retreat Movement. He spoke of the excellent work done here by Rev. Fr. J. Dudley Nee, the district director, and the assisting priests and laymen, stating that the dinner meeting last night was one of the best yet held in the entire diocese.

Speaking of the importance of the Retreat movement and the work along those lines being done in Pittsburgh and throughout the diocese, he stressed the observance of Eucharistic Night held last October, as one of the bigger and better things that had been done.

He said among other things "It might be asked of you what are you doing yourselves, not as parishes as individuals along the line of Catholic Action, which the Holy Father, the Vicar of Christ, is asking of you constantly. This does not mean that you are to march militant in the course of your daily life but rather that you exemplify the life and acts of Jesus Christ and the apostles in going about among your fellowmen. That is what you are taught at the retreats.

"Protestantism is interested in your retreats, in fact there are often non-Catholics in attendance and I can assure you that there is never anything said or done that will tamper with their belief nor an effort made to compel them to become Catholics. The Protestant thinks as do you concerning our creator. He has a soul and it is just as precious as your soul. The retreat is to instruct you in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man.

To Strengthen Soul

"We are not here to teach you how to vote, or concerning economics or to battle socialism or bolshevism but rather to strengthen your soul against the attacks that such things make upon you and your faith. We can lead you in no better manner than through a few days spent in Retreat.

"All authority comes from God. Your religious authority comes through Jesus Christ, the Holy Father, your bishops and priests and you should not think of rebelling against it, coming as it does from God. All other authority comes to you direct from God. You delegate that authority to others through exercise of your right of franchise and once you have delegated it to your civil authorities, you should obey those to whom you have delegated that authority.

"There is no better way of knowing what your children are doing than through the medium of the retreat. They will come from these retreats prepared to follow only the best.

"The world is now considering birth control. Your priests are constantly battling against it. There is no church or body of people that has the right to advocate such a thing. Birth is a matter of the law of nature, which law was established by the infinite, most high God.

"The retreat will make you obey your creator and in doing that you will be a better man." There are many of you who can make the retreat if you want to and I hope that you will."

Rev. Father Nee, district director of the Holy Name Societies, made a few concluding remarks, thanking those who had helped make the occasion a success and then pronounced the benediction.

Priests Participating

The priests participating in the affair were Rev. Fr. Lucien Ducie C. P. St. Paul's Monastery, S. S. Pittsburgh, Rev. Fr. Bertrand Brookman, O. M. Cap, St. Fidelis, College, Herman, Pa., Rev. Fr. R. D. Wilkey and Rev. Nowbert Schramm of St. Agatha's Church, Ellwood City; Rev. Fr. N. DeMita, and Rev. Fr. Anthony Donatelli of St. Vitus Parish, New Castle; Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski of St. Philip and James Parish, New Castle; Rev. Fr. Joseph Fitzpatrick, St. Canice, Knoxville, Pa.; Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr, St. Joseph's, New Castle; Rev. Fr. P. Scholz, St. Margaret's, New Castle; Rev. Fr. Victor Green, O. M. Cap, St. Fidelis College, Herman, Pa.; Rev. Fr. James A. Delaney, diocesan director of Holy Name Societies, Pittsburgh; Rev. Fr. P. J. McKenna, Rev. Fr. F. S. Clifford and Rev. Fr. J. Dudley Nee, St. Mary's, New Castle.

The pictures of St. Vincent's College and the retreat conducted there were shown with the moving picture machine of St. Vitus Parish with Anthony Villani as the operator.

The committee in charge of the very successful event consisted of Rev. Fr. J. Dudley Nee, district director, James T. Carey, chairman and Toastmaster, James L. Rocks, N. J. Bauer, John Boda, Joseph Madino, J. DeFonso, Thomas Diffley, S. Dlugenski, John Melicher and Louis J. Parillo.

Retreat centers designated during the evening were St. Fidelis College, Herman, Pa., St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pa., and St. Paul's Monastery, Pittsburgh, Pa.

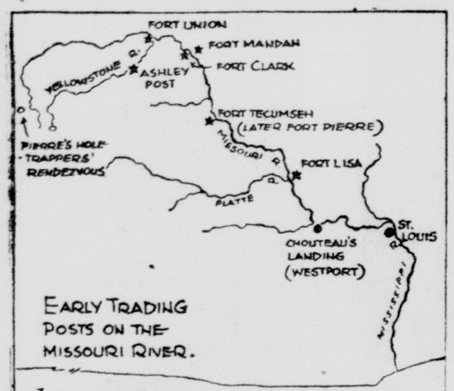
4. The Missouri Fur Trade—Early Trading Posts



IN SPITE OF MANY SET-BACKS AND DISASTERS THE FUR TRADE ON THE UPPER MISSOURI PROSPERED. IT SURVIVED THE WAR OF 1812, A • WITHIN A FEW YEARS A SCORE OF TRADING POSTS WERE DOING A FLOURISHING BUSINESS ALONG THE RIVER . . . . . .

-THE INDIANS FLOCKED TO THESE STATIONS TO TRADE, PITCHING THEIR TEPEES OUTSIDE THE WALLS, AND BARTERING THE SKINS OF BEAVER AND BUFFALO FOR IRON POTS, FLOUR, HATCHETS AND KNIVES, RIFLES, POWDER AND SHOT, TOBACCO, "FIREWATER," BLANKETS AND BRIGHT-COLORED CLOTH.

AROUND THE TRADING POST, WITHIN A RADIUS OF 100 MILES AND MORE, HUNTED THE TRAPPERS. WORKING ALONE OR IN SMALL PARTIES, THEY WOULD MAKE A CAMP IN A SPOT WHERE GAME WAS PLENTIFUL, AND SPEND THE GREATER PART OF THE YEAR IN THE SOLITUDES . . . . . .

TRAPPING IN THE WILDS CALLED FOR COURAGE AND RESOURCEFULNESS OF THE HIGHEST ORDER. BESIDES THE ORDINARY PERILS OF THE ELEMENTS, WILD BEASTS AND ACCIDENTS, THERE WAS THE EVER-PRESENT DANGER OF ATTACK BY HOSTILE REDSKINS, EAGER TO TAKE THE TRAPPER'S PELTS AND SCALP. A SAD, SAD STORY

Grove Wins His Ninth Victory

Lefty Grove Defeats Chicago White Sox 2 To 1 By His Pitching

INDIANS TAKE ANOTHER GAME

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 4—A few years ago they said what the country needed most was a good five-cent cigar; today they say the crying need is the same cigar—and a match. But the situatioin remains unchanged in the American baseball league. What baseball needs most, then and now, is a club that can come close to beating the champion athletics.

The A's kicked a little more dust in the eyes of New York and Washington yesterday as Lefty Grove sent Ted Lyons on his way and won his ninth victory of the season, 2 to 1, at the expense of the Chicago White Sox.

The New York Giants cut the Cardinals lead in the fiery National circuit to a game and a half, with Clarence Mitchell, a former St. Louis hurler, crushing his old teammates, 9 to 5.

Vosmik Hits Homer

Joe Vosmik, the rookie outfielder who is recovering from a fearful batting slump, made the old rafters ring with a blazing homer in the eleventh inning that won for Cleveland, 5 to 4, over the Boston Sox.

Wretched fielding enabled the Cubs to crash the irresponsible Robins of Brooklyn, 9 to 8. A couple of fumbles by Thompson and one by Gilbert silverplattered to Chicago in the ninth.

Oscar Melillo, of the erstwhile lowly St. Louis Browns, hit a double, two singles and a home run. This, connected with Stewart's striking out of eight Yankees, let down the New Yorkers, 8 to 6.

Three scattered blasts were the sum-total of hitting garnered by Detroit off Bob Burke, youthful Washington southpaw, the Senators annexing it, 2 to 1.

Dreesen tripled in the tenth and aided by Maranville squeezed-played for the run that won for Boston, 4 to 3, over the Pirates.

The time-honored Eppa Rixey, the Reds' lefthander, pitched a four-hit masterpiece, which saddened the Phillies 3 to 1. Buzz Arlett, one of the great Californians, managed to double for the Phils.

Ball Yard Banter

The current trek of the New York Giants through the wild and woolly west can greatly further or delay their drive on the National league pennant. The Giants are swinging around the western belt of the league for the first time this season, playing in what are unfamiliar parks to a number of the youngsters in the Gotham lineup.

What makes this trip doubly tough for the McGrawmen is that the New York must meet toughest western opposition first.

The four-day St. Louis series, followed by a three-day stay in Chicago precedes journeys to Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. These two series against the two toughest western clubs may take some of the pep out of the McGraws, causing them to be less effective against the Pirates and Reds. Had the schedule called for battles with the weaker clubs first, the Giants might have expected comparative rest before tackling the pennant contenders.

Both the Cards and the Cubs shifted their lineup to present the strongest possible opposition to the invading Giants.

Despite efforts to bolster their lineup, the Cards went into the Giants series not nearly as strong as St. Louis fans hoped they would be. The outfield had not been hitting as it should and the infield remained unstable. As for the Cubs, Rogers Hornsby has been unable to inject speed into his charges.

But if Cardinals and Cubs have had their woes so have the Giants.

The manner in which the lowly Brooklyn Robins manhandled the Giants in their recent series is cause enough for any New York fan to worry over. Either the Giants were less effective than usual against the Robins—or the Brooklyns are, at last, getting better. There is small comfort for Gothamites in either answer.

Shenango Plays Highland Tonight

Tonight at Centennial field the Shenango nine will meet the North Highland aggregation in a Lawrence County league tilt. The contest will start at 6:30 o'clock.

Last week these two teams battled to a 4-4 tie and this contest is expected to be another fast one. W. Soho or Liversage will likely hurl for the Shenango team. Just who North Highland will use is not known.

The Golf Bug

The golf bug is back once more. The conductor of this column has been grounded for some time by this and that, but it's (okey) now and we will try to give you a little newsy bits of the golf world.

The tourney committee at the Municipal Golf course consisting of one-man so far, Ollie West, is functioning and some fine tourneys are looked for this summer.

Manager Walter "Hub" Hart announces today that "Tootsy" the golf course mascot or pet, just gave birth to seven white fox terrier pups. "Tootsy" is well known to the golfers who play the "Muny."

Captain Smith, the Field Club Pro said today that the Field Club course is in excellent shape, the best that it ever has been. The greens are fast. The fairways and rough has all been cut.

The entire eighteen holes are open at the Field Club. The Number 5 green was re-built. This is the longest hole on the course, some 560 yards. The new green is a pippin. It was opened for play last week.

Mr. Hart, manager of the City course or the Municipal Golf links if you prefer, asks that the public stay off the putting green, a number of people with high heel shoes have been walking over the green and this is strictly forbidden. Visitors are asked to stay off the course as much as posisble when not playing. The greens cost many hundreds of dollars and a high heel mark will do a lot of damage.

If you have any little newsy notes about your golf game that you think would be interesting just give the News Golf Bug editor a ring and he will give you an attentive ear. Any holes in one, or two, or such news as that. Any time you break par on the course is news also.

West Pittsburg Trims Bessemer

West Pittsburg took a substantial hold of first place in the Lawrence County league on Wednesday night on the West Pittsburg field by handling the strong Bessemer aggregation a 4-1 defeat.

Bessemer used Nord and Bable on the mound while West Pittsburg used Honkonen. The contest was fast throughout. Marcantino with two hits featured for the West Pittsburg nine.

The box score:

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY WILLIAM RITT

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor

Your Uncle Samuel has full proprietorship in so many world sport titles that to remind the loyal citizenry that there is one American-made athletic crown in strictly alien hands is indeed a thankless task.

What with the U. S. A. possessing the Olympic, international yacht, international polo, British open golf, international speedboat, boxing, wrestling, push-ball, backgammon, flagpole sitting, marbles, poker, gate crashing and sundry other titles, it is hard for the working patriot to realize that the American woman tennis champion is a British girl, the well known Miss Betty Nuthall.

Betty of London is the American champion by virtue of her own splendid tennis ability and (to be a bit catty about it) the absence last summer from the Forest Hills tournament of one Mrs. Helen Wills Moody.

However, the chief excuse, if any for this sporting item is the growing belief that the American championship will return to American hands this summer.

Reason No. 1 is the possibility of Mrs. Moody's return to American competition. Helen is still head and shoulders above the field in women's tennis wherever it is played.

Reason No. 2 is Miss Nuthall's recent defeat in the French hard court singles tourney at Auteuil by Fraulein Cilly Aussem, champion of Germany.

Reason No. 3 is that several of the girls in America's younger tennis set show improvement over their 1930 game and one of these youngsters may upset the British girl in the course of a tourney.

Failure of Miss Nuthall to stop the fraulein may be highly significant. Cilly is a star in her own right, but the German girl has never approached the ability of the champion of England and America. The Betty Nuthall of 1930 would have had little trouble beating Fraulein Aussem.

We read that Betty in her match with Cilly defeated herself. She erred constantly and lost her first service in the first and second set. The first set went to deuce before the Fraulein won, but Betty won only the fifth game of the second set.

Granted that Betty was handicapped by a rain-softened court, the British girl's showing was poor enough to have brought her defeat at the hands of the higher ranking Americans.

Bowl Refuses To Stage Return "Go"

Sam Bruce And Henry Firpo Will Not Meet Second Time Here

It was announced that directors of the Castle Bowl had decided they would not stage a return bout between Sam Bruce, Buffalo and Henry Firpo, Louisville, owing to the belief that Bruce's alleged two "run outs" had cost him the public's confidence.

A letter to this effect yesterday was sent to Havey J. Boyle, commissioner of boxing for the western section of Pennsylvania.

As a compromise, Boyle had suggested that the bowl stage the bout and to atone in a measure for disappointing bowl patrons Bruce was to box at slightly decreased terms.

The bowl it is reported lost heavily through Bruce's decision to fight twice in Boston on nights he was scheduled here.

He was beaten in both fights.

In notifying Mr. Boyle that the bowl would not care to restage the battle the directors told Boyle that as far as they are concerned they did not care what the commission did to Bruce. If it wished to punish him it could and if not, it didn't matter to the bowl which has agreed to take the "knockout in the pocketbook" rather than put Bruce in.

Bruce personally is not blamed for the disappointments but the responsibility is laid at the doorstep of his manager, Harry McCoy.

Johnny Farrell's Brilliant 72 May Carry Him Through British Open

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, June 4—The second round of the British open golf championship, for which one American and two Britishers were tied for first place, will determine the sixty players today who will participate in the two final rounds for the title.

Following today's play, only the sixty leading golfers and those tied for sixtieth place will be permitted to enter the two final and deciding rounds tomorrow. The lowest aggregate score of the entire four rounds of championship play which opened yesterday, will win the coveted crown of British golfing supremacy.

Johnny Farrell, smiling young Quaker Ridge professional of Westchester, N. Y. turned in a brilliant 72 that looked as though it would be low for the day. However he was later tied by Henry Cotton and W. T. Twine, of Great Britain.

The play of another Yankee, MacDonald Smith, generally accepted as the favorite was somewhat of a disappointment, although he was only three strokes behind the leaders. A disastrous 39 going out proved his undoing. Playing three over par on the first nine, he steadied on the second and came in in 36, just even par.

WHEN you set out to buy tires, what do you expect to get for your money?

What nearly everyone really wants is most miles and the utmost in safety at the lowest possible price.

That being your objective, which tire should you buy?

If the experience of 20,000,000 motorists means anything, you should certainly buy Goodyears.

But if you try to puzzle through the welter of statistics on thicknesses, weights and diameters you lose the main issue and are as much at sea as ever.

A difference of two or three one-thousandths of an inch in the width of a tire carcass is no guarantee against blowouts.

It's what the carcass is made of and how it's made that counts.

Longer wear is not a matter of logarithms.

It is the honest product of materials and craftsmanship.

The one and only reliable guide for you to follow is the seasoned preference of the public.

And that preference is overwhelmingly for Goodyear.

This fact expressed year after year by Goodyear's great leadership is concretely told again in the findings of an impartial investigation by the Bureau of Business Research of a great University that asked 205,000 car owners this simple question:

QUESTION: "Regardless of price, convenience, etc., what make of tire do you consider the BEST tire made?"

HOW CAR OWNERS VOTED ON THE QUESTION
"WHAT TIRE IS BEST?"
. . . . Based on a National Tire Survey in 1930 by a large University . . . .

It will be noted that 30.7% of the car owners of America prefer Goodyear Tires. This preference is more than twice that of any other make of tire.

This tire survey was based on a scientifically mailed questionnaire to car owners in every state in the country and proportioned in turn to cities and rural communities.

There's the only buying guide that means anything to you car owners.

With Goodyear quality priced so low, why not avail yourself of the long mileage, safety and the good looks that have made Goodyear reputation?

Vacation Days Are Eagerly Awaited By Henry Children

Their visions of summer vacation dazzling before them since warm weather first became a reality, fifty children of the Margaret Henry Home who attend the city public schools eagerly await the start of vacation on June 9.

When they put their books away for the summer months it will mark of a season replete with every enjoyment that the city and civic organizations are doing for the other boys and girls of New Castle.

Forty seven of the Home children are enrolled in the Pollock school, four go to the Ben Franklin junior high and three are enrolled at Senior high. Next February the home will be represented by a graduating senior.

Meanwhile with only five days before vacation will commence for 11,000 children of the city public schools, the Henry boys and girls are holding whispered conversations among themselves. Some boys are planning their annual fishing excursions to Second Dam. In former summers the journey of Home children to this fishing mecca has resulted in fisherman's luck for the youngsters.

As in past seasons the boys are again expected to be the guests of the service clubs for a free summer's vacation at the Rentz "Y" Camp on the Slippery Rock Creek.

Fancy sewing will occupy the attention of the Henry girls during the summer as it has in past years.

In addition to a program of recreational activities, theatre parties are expected to be held.

Vets Auxiliary To Meet Tonight

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold their regular meeting in the Legion Home Association Building this evening.

Plans for the coming state encampment will be discussed along with a number of other important business matters. It is expected that several candidates will be initiated at the meeting.

President Flossie Potter desires a full attendance of the membership at this meeting.

Salvation Army Board To Meet

Advisory board of the local corps of the Salvation Army will meet in special session Friday afternoon between 4:30 and 5 p. m. in the hall, 34 West Washington street, at the call of Chairman William White. There are a number of important matters up for consideration at that time.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA

Daughters of America will hold their regular meeting tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in McGoun hall. A card party will follow regular business and will include 500, eucre and bingo.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Fluctuates In Early Trading

NEW YORK, June 4.—Considering the violence of yesterday's upward move in the leading stocks, the market gave a good account of itself this morning. Most of the Industrial and Railroad speculative favorites fell off a point or two on profit taking in the first hour, but good rallies were scored in the second period all along the line. Moderate rallies were also made in the Commodity markets.

Eastman Kodak's 6-point rise to 140 was the feature of the specialties, the stock responding to an official report of satisfactory business conditions. United States Steel pushed ahead to above 89, the best price since its recent fall to 83. National Power and Light, Consolidated Gas and other utilities reached the best levels of the move and the same was true of a few of the Rails, including Chesapeake and Ohio and Atchison.

The bears were skeptical of the ability of the market to "keep going" and professionals were ready to add to their short lines today. A total of 500,000 shares changed hands in the first half-hour, the bulk of which represented the churning of the favorites by the professionals, though the brokerage houses handled a small amount of business from the outside. To facilitate trading by the little fellow, a number of the brokers reduced their margin requirements, also agreeing to carry stocks as low as $5 a share on margin.

Corpus Christi Day Celebrated

(International News Service)

ROME, June 4.—For the first time in years today there were no joyous processions through the streets of Rome to celebrate the annual festival of Corpus Christi.

The churches, however, were packed to the doors by the faithful carrying out the pope's recent decree forbidding all public celebrations of Catholic feast days. The decree was issued early last week after Fascist attacks on church property and personages. A number of prominent Fascists, however, urged that the processions should be held today as in former years.

Injunction Issued Restraining Suit In Divorce Case

Chicago Man Restrained By Injunction From Seeking Nevada Divorce

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 4—Although Judge Rudolph F. Desort stated in granting an injunction restraining Joseph L. Sylvan from suing for divorce in Reno that he had no quarrel with the Nevada courts, his move was seen today as part of a legal war on the divorce machinery there.

The injunction was granted to Mrs. Edith Sylvan, who has been married 21 years and has six children, in her suit for separate maintenance.

Attorney Benjamin B. Davis, one of her counsel, termed the Nevada laws a bid for an annual divorce business of $3,000,000.

Stocks Advance From 4 To 10 Points

Steel Goes Up Nine Points Over Yesterday—Rails Also Show Gain

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service
Financial Editor

NEW YORK, June 4.—The railroad stocks and industrial bluechips carried the banner for the bulls today in a further advance of 1 to 4 points. As in the last two days, the rally was extremely slow at the start, but gained momentum when it was found that stocks were not plentiful at the prices prevailing at yesterday's close. Short covering the professionals and bargain-hunting by small and big investors furnished the power behind the move which carried the favorites from 4 to 10 points above yesterday's low prices.

New Haven's 5-point jump to 72 was the feature of the popular investment rails. New York Central at 81 showed a gain of 4 points over yesterday's close and of nearly 10 points above the low of the week. Baltimore and Ohio was another good ground gainer, advancing nearly 5 points to 52 3-4, up 9 points from Thursday's low. Atchison jumped 4 points to 144-3-4. Southern Pacific was up 3 1-4 at 77 1-4, and Pennsylvania up 4 at 49 1-4.

Aside from the fact that the rails have been sold to a standstill in the last two weeks, at the lowest prices in anywhere from five to fifteen years, is the further fact that leaders in the industry are taking what Wall Street believes to be effectual steps to restore freight rates to profitable levels. A 10 per cent rise to the 1922 level is the goal set by the railroad committee which has the matter in charge.

The shorts in United States Steel were given another painful squeeze when the big speculative favorite was whisked ahead another 3 points to 91 7-8. At this price steel was up about 9 points from yesterday's low. American Can topped 100 for a two-days' gain of nearly 8 points and Consolidated Gas at 91 3-8 was up 1 1-2 for the day and 8 points from the low of the week.

World War Pilot Suffers Injuries As Plane Crashes

Lieutenant Fred Nelson, Manager Of Harrisburg Airport Crashes Plane In Wires

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 4. — Lieut. Fred Nelson, World War pilot, and manager of the Harrisburg Airport, today was recovering from slight injuries received when his plane struck several power lines and crashed into Swatara Creek, at Royalton, south of here.

Nelson leaped from the plane as it struck the wires. He was rescued by three youths who stood on shore and witnessed the accident. The broken power lines splitting and flashing, sent several persons in a nearby park in Royalton, scurrying for safety.

Earl Kendig, of Middletown, was burned when one of the broken wires fell across the boat from which he was fishing, and burned his steel rod into two pieces.

The accident occurred about dusk, and it is thought that Nelson did not see the wires.

Nelson was an army flier during the World War, and was a former inspector of repairs at Middletown Air Depot.

State Idol Victims Theme For Rabbi

Interesting Service To Take Place At Temple Israel Friday Evening

The recent events in Italy direct once more the attention of thoughtful men to one of the most dangerous aftermaths of the World War.

The Red Idol in Moscow, the Black Idol in Italy, and the many smaller idols camouflaged under different colors and slogans even in our own country reach out their tentacles to encoil the individual and wrest from him the great measure of personal freedom, which he secured for himself only after centuries of struggle and travail.

Such precious possessions as freedom of thought, freedom of speech and freedom of assembly are being sacrificed to the Idol of State and the tyranny of the group once more menaces the inallenable rights of man.

Not many seem to realize that such an idolatry constitutes a very serious breach of the commandment; "Thou shalt have no other Gods before me. Thou shalt not make unto thyself any graven images," which is bound up most closely with the preceding commandment, which stresses the idea of personal freedom.

Will we, will humanity remain heedless of the admonition that "Eternal watchfulness is the price of liberty"?

What are the factors that threaten liberty and liberalism? This topic will be discussed by Rabbi Menkes at the regular Friday evening services at Temple Israel tomorrow evening at 8:00 p. m.

After the services there will be a social hour with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Stone acting as hosts.

Sabbath morning services at 10:30 a. m.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Every holiday, and on many Saturday nights and Sundays, getting in from Cascade Park is a trip that requires as much time as it would take ordinarily to go to Ellwood City. Traffic moves slowly frequent jams occur and tempers get frayed at the edges.

Next time you are out there and the traffic line on Washington St looks like a Worlds' Series, fool 'em, don't use East Washington street at all. Cascade Street is in good shape now. Take it from near the entrance to the park and you have a good ash road to Butler Avenue. Drop down Butler Avenue to Ray Street and shoot across across Croton Avenue. A little out of the way but when traffic is thick, it will save you plenty of time.

Funny about Reis street. There are so many depressions in the street, or bricks out, or something, that the street looks as though it had spotted fever, and when you drive it your car acts as thought it had the ague. A few daubs of filler of some kind would fix it.

Some afternoon when you have nothing else to do, drive out to the garbage plant on Sampson street. If you were never there, you may be surprised. Almost no odor at all, no signs of garbage, just a brick building with some covered holes in the floor, down which all the garbage of the city passes to its destruction.

It is really an unusual place and it wont be necessary to send word you are coming. They're always ready for company out there. This plant is one example of what can be done by city employes when the lad in charge knows his apples, or say his garbage. Howard Phillips runs the place as though it were his own, and it's our idea that he fills the bill.

Heard a chap panning the road from Harlansburg to Jordan Game Farm today. Claims that the best way to get there is by telephone. Road looks as though a herd of elephants had been tramping it after a heavy rain and the customer in questions riz right up on his hind feet and demanded that somebody do something. The roar is passed on to the Scott Township road supervisors. With a show place like the game farm in their township wouldn't it be a smart idea to fix it a bit.

With all these stories in the papers about ticket holders in the sweepstakes in England winning gobs of dough, what I'd like to know is do they ever get paid off? Chap here in New Castle has a ticket in today's race at Epsom Downs which is supposed to be good for five or six thousand dollars and the horse hasn't a chance to win, they say. Seems they pay off on all horses who are in the race.

And to get closer home, some of the local boys are drifting out now and then to the races over in Ohio and some of the tales of how they nearly won on some of the ponies are good enough to be booked.

Celebrate Adoption Of National Emblem

American Flag Should Be Displayed And Worn As Badge

Mayor William H. Gillespie today requested the public of New Castle to cooperate with the national organization of the American Flag Day association which plans to celebrate the birthday of "Old Glory" June 14, which will be the 154th anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes of the emblem of the U. S. The flag was adopted June 14, 1777. The mayor in issuing the request said:

"Whereas the American Flag Day association and affiliated civic, educational, patriotic, fraternal, religious and other cooperating organizations which annually observe Flag day desire this event to be generally recognized, and

"Whereas by such celebrations it is expected that our pride in American citizenship will be emphasized, our faith in and devotion to American institutions strengthened, everyone permeated with a stronger love of country and all our people rebaptized in patroitism, it is requested

"That June 8 to 14, 1931 be designated as Flag week and that decorations in our national colors be made and wherever possible, the flag be displayed and worn as a badge of honor and distinction.

"As June 14 comes on Sunday, that in all places of worship, public recognition be made of the day that we then gave expression to our thoughtful love of America, our determination to make it greater and purer with each generation by our loyal service and loyal living."
